CAL IGNORES PRECEDENT IN MEXICAN ROW

Wilson and Bryan Formally Protested Treatment of Church in Mexico

FOUGHT OPPRESSION

Coolidge and Kellogg Maintain Hands-off Policy in Treating Matter

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright, 1926, Post Pub. Co.

Washington—Search of the files of the department of state in the latest volume made public shows that both President Wilson and Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan felt that the treatment by the Mexican authorities of Catholics was a subject of formal diplomatic protest by the American government.

It also reveals that the Catholic leaders in America were not fully satisfied and constantly exerted pressure to have the Washington government go even further than was deemed expedient by the administration here. On the whole, it shows, however, that the American government did make religious freedom a condition of the extension of recognition to the Carranza government which has been succeeded by other governments in Mexico.

The first document under date of Aug. 21, 1914, namely, a letter from President Wilson to the late Cardinal Gibbons, says that the President has spoken "again and again" with regard to the treatment of priests and adds "my influence" will continue to be exerted in that direction and, I hope, with increasing effect.

FOUGHT OPPRESSION

Secretary Bryan on Nov. 27, 1914, acknowledged a letter from Father Tierney, chairman of the committee of the Federation of the Catholic societies by saying in part: "Regarding your request that this government withhold its recognition of any government in Mexico that does not grant real freedom of worship, the department informs you that it will refer final decision as to whether or not to accord recognition to a government in Mexico until the time shall have arrived for making such a decision. When that time arrives freedom in Mexico will receive due consideration. The department has shown your letter with accompanying enclosures to the president and it has received from him a written reply in which he says:

"I am distressed that our Catholic fellow countrymen do not more fully realize how frequent and serious our attempts have been to act in the interest of their people in Mexico."

Secretary Bryan in a letter dated Mar. 20, 1916, addressed to Father Francis C. Kelley, president of the Catholic Church Extension society, wrote as follows:

"The President has referred to me your important letter of the 23rd of February concerning the present distressing situation in Mexico with the request that I tell you very definitely what the attitude of the United States is in the matter of the protection of the rights of conscience and worship there, a matter in which the administration is, I need not say, deeply interested as all true Americans must be.

"The question which has bulked largest in political discussion in connection with the present revolution in Mexico and in connection with the revolution which preceded it, is the land question, but, of course, economic questions are settled, if the matter be thought through to its real heart, only in order to give leave to the deeper things that are spiritual. A democracy must be sustained by education and above and beyond all, the full flower of democracy lies in religious freedom, the principle which the holders of our own republic made the crown of the whole structure.

U. S. ACTS AS ADVISOR

"The administration has not felt at liberty to play any part in the internal affairs of Mexico except that of friend and adviser. It realizes that by reason of geographic proximity and many historical circumstances known to all the world, it is in some peculiar degree charged with the duty of safeguarding, so far as may be, the limits of international privileges, the lives and rights of foreigners in Mexico, and it has again and again made the strongest possible representations with regard to such matters to those

Youthful Bandits Rival Exploits Of Jesse James

Two Boys Elude Half a Dozen Posses, Airplanes and Volunteer Searchers

Fueblo, Colo.—(AP)—Two boy bandits, Lester and Forest Gonce aged 18 and 14, are reenacting exploits of the Jesse James gang in a series of robberies in this section, eluding with apparent ease a half dozen posses, airplanes equipped with tear gas bombs and scores of volunteer sentries.

The pair recently shot their way to freedom in Garden City, Kansas after being arrested for holding up a filling station and fled into Colorado. Since coming to this state they have held up and robbed a deputy sheriff of his

COOLIDGE TO HEAR REPORTS AT CAMP HOME

President Will Listen to Discussion of U. S. Economics and Politics

Pauls Smith, N. Y.—(AP)—Reports on several phases of the country's political and economic life are to be made to President Coolidge in the next few days by a number of visitors. In addition to Secretary of State Kellogg who returned to the President's vacation home Wednesday night after making an address at Plattsburgh, Mr. Coolidge Thursday had engagements with Julius Rosenwald, president of Sears, Roebuck and Co.; Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Broseau of New York city. Mr. Broseau is president of the Mack Truck Co. while Mrs. Broseau is national head of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Friday Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr. of New York and Mrs. Wadsworth are to call. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor and the vice presidents of the organization are to call Monday and have luncheon at the summer whitehouse after inspecting the citizens military training camp at Plattsburgh which President Coolidge is soon to visit.

Senator Capper, who is to spend Thursday night at the presidential camp will give his views on agricultural and political questions.

Mr. Rosenwald arrived Wednesday, reporting to the president on the business condition throughout the country as viewed by his mail order company.

LUTHERAN SYNOD OF IOWA HOLDS MEETING

Dubuque, Ia.—(AP)—The triannual meeting of the Evangelical Lutheran synod of Iowa opened at Wartburg seminary here Thursday. Among the important matters awaiting action are the election of a synodical president to succeed the Rev. F. Richter of Clinton, retiring because of age, and enlargement of Wartburg seminary. The preparatory address was delivered Thursday morning by the Rev. A. Augustin of Eau Claire, president of the Wisconsin district.

NAME LA CROSSE MAN DEPUTY U. S. MARSHALL

Madison—(AP)—Edward Miller, La Crosse has been appointed deputy United States marshal for the western district of Wisconsin. Marshal James Harris is awaiting confirmation of the appointment from Washington. Miller will succeed William A. Outon, Madison promoted to the place vacated by the resignation of R. E. Butler, Sparta, chief deputy.

CURES FOR ASTHMA AND HAY FEVER DANGEROUS

Chicago—(AP)—Hay fever and asthma sufferers were warned Thursday by the Gorgas memorial institute here of the danger of habit forming drugs in patent "cures." All such reliefs, said a statement from the foundation contain some habit forming narcotic or derivative whether the preparation be for use internally, through sprays or in prepared cigarettes or vaporizing material.

automobile and weapons, "stuck up" a Y. M. C. A. camp at Rye, a small resort town and are so generally terrorizing residents at the resort that many of them are closing up their cabins and shortening their usual summer vacations. Just when Sheriff's forces believe they have cornered the pair in a canyon near here Wednesday night, a large automobile sped through the streets of Rye and from its open windows the boy desperadoes waved an urchin like greeting to the inhabitants as they sped west. Where the pair commandeered the machine is a mystery.

The two youngsters fugitives from Colorado penal institutions started on their present career of outlawry a few weeks ago and to date it has rivaled the exploits of some of the west's most notorious "bad men."

All their escapades have been accomplished in the face of an intensive search that has been conducted for them since they robbed the Deputy Sheriff a week ago. Both boys are armed heavily and officers believe a pitched battle may ensue once they are cornered. Their mother arrived from Garden City Wednesday to aid in the search.

AMERICAN DEAD IN PLANE CRASH

Seven U. S. Citizens Hurt in French Cross Channel Airplane Wreck

Folkestone, Eng.—(AP)—The British air ministry Thursday began an investigation of the crash of a French cross channel airplane at Aldington Wednesday which caused the deaths of the pilot, one American, and one Italian, and the injury of 12 others in the plane. Seven of the injured passengers were Americans. The accident was the most serious passenger airplane tragedy that England has ever experienced. It occurred when the plane collided with a barn while making a forced landing during a heavy fog.

The Pilot M. De Lisle died Thursday afternoon. The American killed was Robert Blaney of Boston who has been traveling in Europe since he was graduated from Harvard this year. Vigo Ruzi, the other man killed was manager of London's noted Ambassador club. He had been on a short visit to Paris.

The Americans injured in the crash were taken to the Royal Victoria hospital where it was stated that unless unexpected complications set in, all probably would recover.

The passengers had a most terrifying experience as the plane, careening toward the earth, struck a barn and several haystacks before it finally collapsed.

HOLD MRS. HALL'S KIN ON MURDER CHARGE

Somerville, N. J.—(AP)—Henry De La Bruere Carpenter and Willie Stevens were held for the grand jury Thursday on charges of having murdered the Rev. Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills.

The regular grand jury is in permanent session, and can be called in a few days. But the special prosecutor said he would not present his case to this grand jury "because the members have talked too much about the case."

Senator Simpson also announced that he would move to have released the $15,000 bail on which Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, widow of the slain rector was released after her arrest on the murder charge. Mrs. Hall is a cousin of the wealthy broker, Carpenter and a sister of the eccentric, Willie Stevens.

BLAME LIGHTNING FOR MUNITION DEPOT BLAST

Norfolk, Va.—(AP)—Lightning is believed to have been the cause of an explosion Wednesday night at the Pig Point army ammunition depot, 15 miles from Portsmouth, which rocked the countryside.

INDUSTRY IN MEXICO HURT BY BOYCOTT

Propose Conference Between Episcopate and Government to Settle Controversy

Mexico City—(AP)—Mexican businessmen—themselves mostly Roman Catholics—have proposed to the government and the Catholic episcopate that a conference be held for the adjustment of the present religious controversy.

At the same time the episcopate for the first time since the religious difficulties arose, if not the first time in Mexican history has addressed a direct petition to the president of the republic.

The episcopate, which has often expressed its determination never to accept the present regulation, has sent a letter to President Calles, who has frequently and even more vigorously declared he will never withdraw them. This letter asks him to suspend the regulations to give the church its "freedom" and to modify the religious clauses of the constitution radically, declaring that only thus can be settled the old religious struggle.

CALLS SILENT

The president's office so far had declined official comment on these proposals for peace but sources close to the government express certainty that President Calles will not alter his attitude. The president has previously declared that the only solution of the controversy is for the Catholic church to obey the constitution and the laws. Church dignitaries, however, say that "the church cannot live under such regulations. Thus, unless President Calles should completely reverse himself, most observers feel that the episcopate's letter will not alter the fundamental deadlock.

Businessmen, obviously feeling acutely the effects of the economic boycott, are fearing that some of them will go under unless the stalemate is broken.

MILWAUKEE MAN DEAD, 2 HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Marshfield—(AP)—Harry Barrager, was almost instantly killed, his wife and Mrs. C. H. Bunker were slightly injured and Barrager's daughter, Marie, and C. H. Bunker, all of Milwaukee escaped unhurt when the automobile in which they were returning home was crowded off a highway at Mann, five miles north of here late Wednesday afternoon. The injured are in a hospital here and Barrager's body is at a local undertaking establishment. Bunker who was driving said a car coming toward him crowded him into the ditch and failed to stop after the accident. The identity of the driver is unknown.

BOXERS MAKE WEIGHT LIMIT SMALL MARGIN

New York—(AP)—Tiger Flowers and Harry Greb both made the 160 lb weight limit by narrow margins Thursday afternoon when they scaled before the State Athletic commission for their 15 round middleweight title match Thursday night at Madison Square Garden. Greb weighed 159 and Flowers 159 1/2.

ENGLISH MINERS AND OWNERS CAN'T AGREE

London—(AP)—Negotiations between the British coal owners and coal miners, which had been looked to bring peace in the long coal tie up, collapsed shortly after they opened Thursday afternoon.

William Wing Jr. Second In Catboat Race In Oshkosh

Oshkosh—Twice in three days Harry Wing the slim class A yacht owned and skippered by Johnny Buckstaff of the Oshkosh Yacht club, has outdistanced the fleet of 14 other fast sailing craft in the Inland Lakes regatta. After placing first on Monday and second on Tuesday, Buckstaff Wednesday sailed his craft over the 12 mile course on Lake Winnebago in 1:45:46, taking the Jim Jones cup.

Red Raven, flying the pennant of the Minnetonka Yacht club and with A. J. Hill at the tiller made the triangular course in 1:47:08 coming in second. Viking III of the Lake Geneva fleet with H. H. Porter at the helm followed 23 seconds later.

"No Name" flying the burgee of the Lake Geneva club and skippered by Ralph Isahm won the "B" race in the morning by making the 8 mile course

FINALLY KILL PROPOSAL TO BUY BUILDING

Council Votes 8 to 4 Against Buying Langstadt-Meyer Property

Defeating Alderman Catlin's resolution proposing purchase of the Langstadt-Meyer Co. building at 218-17 E. Washington-st for the police and fire department by a vote of 8 to 4, the common council Wednesday night disposed of a matter which has been pending for more than a year.

The vote was not a surprise, as the council indicated its opposition to the purchase at an informal meeting several weeks ago. The four affirmative votes were cast by Aldermen Catlin, Earle, McGilgan and Thompson.

The resolution, which was not the first of its kind to be considered, was introduced by Alderman Catlin about a month ago. It was laid on the table, and an attempt to force action on it at the meeting two weeks ago was defeated. Alderman Richard introduced a motion at that meeting proposing a vote that night, but because of the absence of Aldermen Catlin, Smith and Steinhauer, the council decided to wait until all its members were present.

PRICE CUT $8,000

Alderman Catlin's original resolution proposed purchase of the building at $88,000, the price named by the owners. He amended it Wednesday evening to buy the building at a price not to exceed $75,000, but even this did not change the council's attitude.

"The city will make a mistake if it does not buy this property now," he said. "It is difficult to secure such desirable property near the center of the city, and if the council fails to make the purchase now, the opportunity may not be available later on when the building could be used to good advantage."

The city was considering the building as quarters for the police and fire departments, and possibly one or two other city departments.

REJECT CAR BIDS

Upon the recommendation of the police and license committee, a class "A" permit was refused Edwin Stoeckmann. The council also adopted the recommendation of the same committee.

I. C. O. K. S. RATES ON MIDWEST CANNED GOODS

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Proposals to increase rates on canned goods from La Crosse, Winona, Minn., and points grouped with those cities, to Danville and Springfield, Ill., St. Louis and points taking the same rates were found justified Thursday by the interstate commerce commission.

The Evaporated Milk association and the National Public Packers association had protested against the new rates.

CRIMINAL ACT COUSES DEATH OF NINETEEN

Lehrte, Germany—(AP)—Nineteen persons were killed and five seriously injured early Thursday when the Berlin-Cologne express, speeding at 80 miles an hour was derailed here. The tragedy is attributed to the deliberate loosening of fish plates by an unknown person.

Police describe the wreck as the worst attempt in 18 years on the lives of the traveling public in Germany. Although the loss of life at first was not believed great, it mounted steadily as further victims were found when the debris of the wreck was removed with difficulty.

NICARAGUA STARTS MOBILIZING TROOPS

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—The Nicaraguan government is mobilizing and dispatching troops "all over the country" to suppress revolutionary outbreaks, Lawrence Dennis, American in charge of Managua, advised the state department Thursday.

Standard Oil Establishes New Division In Green Bay

Office Will Have Charge of 19 Counties in Wisconsin and 9 in Michigan

Green Bay—(AP)—The Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, will establish a division headquarters at Green Bay to have charge of 19 counties in Wisconsin and nine in upper Michigan it was announced here Thursday morning.

The territory covered by the office will be about 25,000 square miles with a population of approximately 750,000.

The company plans to erect a three story building here which is expected to be completed by Jan. 1, 1927. There will be about 500 people employed in the new division and more than 100 of these will be in the general office here. The payroll for the entire division is expected to exceed $345,000 a year.

Besides the new office building, a machine shop will be built to care for the company's automotive equipment. It will be necessary to enlarge the warehouse and the bulk lubricating tanks. These expenditures will probably exceed $300,000, according to the announcement.

KITCHENER TALE

British Scribe Claims Finding of Body Was Faked to Advertise Movie

London—(AP)—The Daily Sketch Thursday prints over the signature of Singleton Gates, a British newspaper man, an article bluntly stating that Gates invented the whole story of the discovery of Field Marshal Lord Kitchener's body in Norway in conjunction with Frank Power, a British newspaperman. It was Power who announced that he had found Lord Kitchener's body and who brought a case to London supposed to contain the remains. Officials of the home office who opened the case said it was empty. Power contended that some one had tampered with the coffin.

Gates asserts in his story that Power was interested in a motion picture entitled, "How Kitchener was betrayed" which was badly in need of publicity. He says the film was made in November 1921 when it was shown privately in London to Lord Kitchener's sister and several members of the house of lords and the commons, who bitterly denounced it. The promoters of the film therefore decided to advertise it to the utmost and the alleged discovery of Kitchener's body was the subsequent invention to aid in the exploitation.

DENY U. S. EMBASSY TO MEXICO WILL RESIGN

Paul Smith, N. Y.—(AP)—Reports that James R. Sheffield is going to resign as Ambassador to Mexico are without foundation, Secretary Kellogg of the state department said here Thursday.

Mr. Sheffield the secretary added is not in disagreement with the state department, and the department desires and expects that he will return to country this summer.

Why Don't You "Get the Habit"?

Everybody who has household goods of any description for sale should advertise them in the classified section of the Post-Crescent.

That's the way Mrs. J. L. Govers, 1320 W. Pine street, feels since she advertised an electric washing machine for sale.

She "got that way" because she had several replies and sold the machine the day after her ad appeared.

It's sound advice, too. If YOU have some household article you'd like to turn into cash—follow it!

U. S. OFFICER ORDERS CITY VICE CLEAN UP

Liquor and Narcotic Conditions in Canton Center of Federal Interest

GRILL FORMER OFFICIAL

Mazer Is Alleged to Have Implicated Prominent Citizens in Vice Ring

Cleveland, O.—(AP)—With investigation of liquor and narcotic conditions in Canton taking precedence with federal authorities over the probe into the killing of Don R. Mellett, publisher, District Attorney A. E. Bernstein Thursday ordered his assistant, Howell Leuck to clean up Canton. At the same time he questioned Norman E. Clark, Canton attorney arrested for violation of the federal prohibition law.

New warrants in the case depend, Bernstein indicated, upon his success to obtain new information from Clark, who was implicated by Louis Mazer, held here for violation of the federal prohibition laws, and for whom a warrant has been issued at Canton. The latter charging the attorney had, while police prosecutor, received bribes, signed fictitious bonds for members of the underworld and on several occasions, received liquor from Mazer.

VALENTINO IS PAST CRISIS OF ILLNESS

Physicians Announce That Sheik Is Making Satisfactory Progress

New York—(AP)—Rudolph Valentino, movie actor has passed the most critical period of his illness, his physicians announced Thursday. "Mr. Valentino is making satisfactory progress," said the bulletin. "Having passed his most critical period, no further bulletins will be issued unless some unexpected developments occur."

The localized attack of peritonitis which followed a double operation for gastric ulcer and appendicitis in Polyclinic hospital on Sunday, apparently made little headway. The crisis in such cases usually is passed in three days.

Telegrams continued to arrive at the hospital in large numbers, including messages of sympathy from persons prominent in the motion picture world as well as movie fans who know of Valentino only by his sheik roles on the screen.

After he had been told by his physicians that he had passed the crisis Valentino issued through his manager a statement of appreciation of interest shown by friends and well wishers.

TRY TO ENFORCE DRY ACT ON CANADIAN BORDER

Paul Smith, N. Y.—(AP)—A further tightening of prohibition enforcement machinery along the Canadian border by joint action of Canada and the United States is expected to be proposed by the Washington government at an early date.

Indications were given in official circles here Thursday that a conference probably would be sought between Canadian officials at Ottawa and Assistant Secretary Lincoln C. Andrews of the American treasury department in charge of prohibition enforcement to see if joint action could be agreed upon in an administrative way for tightening the border against smugglers.

ADVANCE SHIPS IN FORD TOUR FACE RAIN STORM

Cincinnati, Ohio—(AP)—Advance ships for the 21 airplanes entered in the third annual commercial airplane reliability flight left Lunken airport for Cleveland Thursday in the face of a general air storm.

Advance army airplanes, non contestants but carrying officials, left shortly after 10 A. M. The other planes probably will leave shortly after noon, provided the weather reports from northern Ohio indicate flight will be feasible.

NO SERIOUS INJURIES IN TRAIN COLLISION

Woodward, Okla.—(AP)—Passengers were shaken up and bruised but none was severely injured Wednesday night when Santa Fe passenger train No. 22, running from Los Angeles to Chicago, and a freight train met in a head on collision four miles east of here.

The crews of both engines saved their lives by jumping.

REGISTER 840 PUPILS BEFORE SCHOOL STARTS

Enrollment at Senior High School Already 80 More Than Last Year.

Appleton high school will open at 8 o'clock on the morning of Tuesday, Sept. 7, according to H. H. Heible, principal. The advance enrollment is 840, which is a gain of 80 over last year. Students who have just moved to the city and old students who have been out of school for a year or two and are planning to return are to go to the high school office before the opening of school to elect their classes for the year. Students who wish to make a change in their programs also are requested to do so at once.

The high school office is open daily except Saturdays and Sundays from 8 to 5 o'clock and on Saturdays from 8 to 12.

A staff of 37 teachers has been engaged for the coming year.

MEET FOR INSTRUCTION

Students will meet in the general assembly room at 8 o'clock on the first day of school for general instructions and announcements. Following the assembly the students will report to their rooms where they will be assigned to classes.

The daily program was arranged during the summer vacation by Principal Heible. There will be 172 daily classes with a maximum of 30 students in each class. The average number is 25. Each student has been assigned to a certain class at a certain time.

Sophomores are required to enroll in English, general world history, biology and physical education and they have a choice of one of the following: German, French, Latin, home economics, geometry, manual arts, music and commercial geography.

Juniors are required to take English, American history and physical education and also have a choice of all the subjects offered to sophomore students and in addition they may choose from courses in bookkeeping, shorthand, typewriting, advanced mathematics, chemistry, physics, public speaking and expression.

Seniors are allowed to choose their entire program.

BELL SUITS ARE NOT WHAT BUYERS EXPECT

Suits received here by customers of the Bell International Tailors, Inc., which conducted a branch clothing store in the "Rossmessel block" for a few days several weeks ago, are not what they were represented to be at the time of the sale.

The firm makes this admission in a letter which it encloses with all its suits. Regret is expressed in the letter that the order cannot be filled in the same cloth as originally selected by the customer, but the company explains that it is sending a garment equal in value, wearing quality and appearance as the selected goods. It further adds that the present shipment is being made rather than disappoint or delay customers, and promises that if the selections are not satisfactory, they may be exchanged and delivery of a suit in the goods selected will be made as soon as possible. Adjustments are made in accordance with the guarantee bond which accompanies deliveries, the letter states.

All deliveries are sent C. O. D., but many customers are refusing to accept them. Those who do accept the suits say they would rather take what they can get, as long as they ordered them, rather than send them back and wait for an exchange, as no promise as to the time of another shipment is made by the firm.

"HUMAN FLY" TO CLIMB INSURANCE BUILDING

Escaping from a straight jacket in 12 minutes while suspended by his feet near the roof is one of many dare-devil feats which Billie O'Brien, original "human fly" will perform at 7 o'clock this evening at the insurance building. He also will climb straight up the side of the building to the top, stand on his head on the corner of the building, and balance on chairs and tables.

Valentino's Road To Fame And Riches Littered With Ruts And Rocks

Editor's Note: Here is Rudolph Valentino's own story of his life. The famous film star wrote it shortly before he became seriously ill in New York. It is presented here as an absorbing, straight-forward story, just as Valentino wrote it. His career is one of the most unusual in screen history.

BY RUDOLPH VALENTINO
(Copyright, 1926, by Post, Pub. Co.)

In my early studio days I once tried to tell the story of my life as a scenario. It was rejected as being "too wild and improbable." To have one's life thus characterized by a company which specializes in the most fantastic serials was rather disconcerting.

Now as I try to view my own historical record with detachment I can see clearly what the scenario editor meant. The hero of my tale is not at all consistent, like a movie hero. In fact, I am not sure that he is the hero. At times he has all the appearance of "the villain."

Yet again, he seems to have good impulses, which a movie villain never has. Nor does my life run true to dramatic form. It should mount in a straight line to a climax. Instead of that it bounds, like a kangaroo.

A REAL NAME
I was born in the little village of Castellaneta, Italy, May 6, 1895, and was shortly thereafter christened Rudolph Alfonzo Raffaele Pierre Puibert Guglielmi di Valentina d'Antonguolla.

Can you imagine how that would look in electric lights in front of a theater? My real surname is Guglielmi. My mother was the daughter of a learned Parisian doctor, and my father in his youth was a captain of Italian cavalry.

When I was eleven years old my father died and I was sent off to Dante Alighieri College, which corresponds to a high school in this country. I finished the course at thirteen and then went to a military school. But I was more interested in romantic novels than I was in my studies, so the authorities sent me home.

My mother was heartbroken and I was truly contrite because of her suffering. I determined to do better for her sake and enrolled in the Royal Academy of Agriculture to learn to be a scientific farmer. I was graduated with the highest honors in my class, much to the gratification of my mother.

Following this accomplishment, I again slipped from grace and went off to Paris and Monte Carlo to see the world. After all my money was gone I returned home a prodigal son. My family decided that I was apt to disgrace them and that it were better that I be shipped far, far away. So my mother scraped together $400 to finance my voyage to America, where I was to seek fame and fortune.

I arrived in New York just two days before Christmas, Dec. 23, 1913. The new land was very strange to me and I was very lonely. In order to find companionship I frequented the cafes. This took all my money but I did learn to dance, which was to be beneficial to me later.

When my funds were all gone I got a job as superintendent of the Long Island estate of Cornelius Blaes, Jr. This lasted only a short while, as I showed an irresponsible nature and was courteously dismissed. My next "position" was as an apprentice landscape gardener in Central Park, New York City. After a month of this I went to the civil service bureau to get a regular job, but found I was not eligible because I was not a citizen.

I had no job and no funds. I was forced from one lodging to another. I went hungry and slept in Central Park. One hot summer day I walked five miles to the City Hall looking for work. Unable to get it, I walked back.

After doing any little odd jobs that I could get, I finally went to the head waiter at Maxine's and got employment as a dancer. This was really the start of my professional career, for I later obtained dancing engagements with Bonnie Glass and Joan Sawyer.

But I didn't want to be a dancer. Still dreaming of using my education as an agriculturist, I joined a musical comedy company headed for the Pacific coast, with the hope that California might offer something. The troupe stranded in San Francisco and I was again without a job. I tried selling bonds but without success.

A MOVIE VENTURE

At this point Norman Kerry, whom I had known in the east suggested that I try motion pictures. Norman paid my expenses while I made the round of the studios.

No one hailed me as an actor. In fact, it was a long time before I could get even extra work. I knocked about from pillar to post playing villains and small parts until June Mathis selected me to play Julio in "The Four Horsemen."

This was followed by another Ingram picture, "The Conquering Power," and by Nazimova's "Camille." Then came the picture that "made" me—"The Sheik." It was followed by "Cobra," "The Young Rajah," "Blood and Sand," "Monsieur Beaucaire" and "The Sainted Devil."

I then transferred to the United Artists' Corporation and made "The Eagle." My latest picture, "The Son of the Sheik," is a sequel to the earlier desert picture.

PAY HOMAGE TO MINISTERS IN CEMETERY HERE

Memorial Service to Be Part of Methodist Conference Next Month

One of the most impressive ceremonies at the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Conference of Methodist Episcopal churches in Appleton Sept. 7 to 13, is to be the pilgrimage to the Riverside cemetery to pay homage to the memory of the Methodist ministers buried there.

Special arrangements to make the services and pilgrimage more impressive than other years are being made by W. F. Saecker, chairman of the local committee in charge because of the large number of pastors that are buried in the Riverside cemetery. Records show 20 preachers are interred here.

The Rev. T. W. Orblson was the first minister and also the first person to be buried in the Riverside cemetery according to F. E. Saecker, whose investigations disclosed the names of ministers buried in the cemetery here. Mr. Orblson was buried in 1872.

Other ministers who are buried here are Dr. Samuel Plantz, the Rev. J. H. Tippet, the Rev. A. J. Mead, the Rev. Henry Luma, the Rev. J. G. Vaughn, the Rev. P. H. Brigham, the Rev. Charles Bullock, the Rev. S. A. Olin, the Rev. J. W. Olmstead, the Rev. P. B. Bennett, the Rev. W. J. Wilson, the Rev. Thomas Peep, the Rev. H. Miller, the Rev. Thomas Orblson, the Rev. I. H. Lewis, the Rev. W. D. Ames, the Rev. Mr. Gridley and the Rev. L. M. Edmonds.

The pilgrimage will leave First Methodist church, where sessions of the conference are to be held at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, Sept. 8. The older ministers of the conference will travel by car but it is probable that the younger men will march. Widows of ministers buried here also will attend.

The Rev. Webster Millar, retired, of Janesville, is to preside at the special

FIRE CHIEF'S OLD CAR TO BE MADE INTO TRUCK

The chemical truck and chief's car which had been used by the city fire department since 1913 has been turned over to the street department and is being remodeled and refinished for a general service truck. The fire department states that it will receive a new car in the near future.

DEFER HEARING OF TWO MEN ON FORGERY COUNTS

Myron Baum and Edward Feldmeyer Also Face Burglary Charges.

Hearing of Myron Baum and Edward Feldmeyer, both facing charges of forgery and burglary, which was to have been held in municipal court this week, was adjourned Wednesday afternoon by Judge Theodore Berg until Aug. 26.

Feldmeyer will answer to charges of passing a check to which the name of Nick Falzer, a town of Grand Chute farmer, was forged July 21. The check, drawn on the First National bank here, was made payable to Frank Nuss and called for payment of $5.35.

Services at the cemetery. A small platform will be constructed in the cemetery for the services. The Rev. Samuel Joffe, also retired, of Watwata, will preach the morning sermon. Music will be furnished by the local church.

After the sermon the graves of each of the ministers will be visited and flowers placed thereon. Special markers, which have been purchased by the local church, will be placed on each grave. These markers are large iron crosses, with a small holder in back for a flag. The Christian flag, which consists of a white background with a blue square and red cross will be placed in the holders and the markers will be left at the graves.

COMMITTEE MEETS TO LET HEATING CONTRACT

The building committee of First Baptist church will meet Thursday evening at the office of Smith and Brandt, architects, to award the contracts for heating, wiring and painting for the $40,000 addition, now under construction, according to Rev. E. M. Salter, pastor. The finance committee met Wednesday evening at the church to discuss ways and means of raising money to pay for the addition.

Mrs. E. K. Nielson, E. Hancock, who submitted to an operation at Theda Clark hospital at Neenah last week, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Meckelberg of Two Rivers and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Bellinger returned from a trip to Mooseheart, Ill.

BUILDING PERMITS

One building permit was issued Wednesday by Walter Zschaechnr, building inspector. The permit was granted to W. E. Flotow for a residence and garage at 814 1/2 Bellaire-st.

BOARD WILL HEAR SPENCER'S APPEAL

The appeal of Harold Spencer from the refusal of Walter Zschaechnr, building inspector, to grant a permit for remodeling a building at 124 Green East-st will be heard by the board of appeals at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at the city hall. The applicant for the permit was granted permission to remodel part of the basement in addition to this work, he erected a garage there which ran over the lot line, according to the building inspector. Mr. Spencer claims he received permission to construct the garage as well as to carry out the remodeling, but the records of the building inspector show that only a permit for the latter work was granted.

NEED NEW SYSTEM FOR ASSESSING IN WISCONSIN

Machinery for Fixing Property Values Inadequate, Kiwanians Told

"One of the greatest wrongs in existence today is the levy made upon public property by unfair assessors for public revenue," Pearce Tompkins, state tax assessor, said in his address on How Wisconsin ought to be assessed to the Kiwanis club at its meeting in the Conway hotel Wednesday noon. Mr. Tompkins is in charge of the assessment work in Outagamie-co.

"I have nothing but contempt for the assessor who assesses property in his district in any other than the way it should be assessed—at its full value. Despite all attempts there has been no improvement in the manner of assessing in Wisconsin during the past 50 years. Real and property taxes made up $100,000,000 of the $130,000,000 spent each year by the state. This tax is raised from $500,000,000 worth of property which is valued by 2,000 Wisconsin assessors."

ASSESSORS UNFAIR
"The trouble with our system of assessing property is unfairness and crookedness," he said. There are times when property is under or over assessed, and done so conscientiously by the assessor, but there are many times when it is not, and when it is assessed on a discriminatory or percentage basis of its true value.

I know of two canneries in the state. Both are located in the same county where the same tax rate prevails. One is a one line plant and was assessed at $66,000, and the other, a three line and much better factory, was assessed at only $12,000. In another place there are three merchandising establishments in close competition. Although their stock is worth the same, one was assessed at 41 per cent of its full value, while the other two were assessed at 58 and 84 per cent. In another case, a farmer who was town chairman had 129 acres of land, 55 of which were under cultivation which was assessed at $1,800. His buildings, easily worth $5,000, were assessed at only $500.

CAN GET JUSTICE

Property owners who consider their assessments unfair have several means of protest. A re-assessment can be secured if 10 per cent of the property in a district is represented in a demand for one. They can also go to a board of review and other such bodies, but unless there is a sufficient amount of capital invested to warrant securing an attorney well versed in tax matters, it is useless, and they might better stay at home. I recall one case where a man who owned an island in the Fond du Lac river paid only 51 cents a year in taxes. After a re-assessment had been made, and a building on the island taken into consideration, he found himself paying $52 a year. In another case, one man paid enough taxes in 1920 to give him credit for taxes for the next 20 years.

The trouble is not so much with our state laws nor with the assessors but in the fact that the state legislature does not provide for adequate machinery to assess property. There should be provision made for appointing assessors who really enjoy and take an interest in their work, and who might be appointed by county boards from a list approved by the state tax commission or civil service bureau.

BRITISH MINERS ARE STARVING

Can't Live Unless They Get Help from America, Milwaukeeans Told

Milwaukee — (P) — Paul McKenna, police magistrate of Lanark county, Scotland, and executive board member of the Miner's Federation of Great Britain, Wednesday night told a mass meeting of labor unionists of Milwaukee, of the extremity to which striking miners of Great Britain have been reduced.

Mr. McKenna came to this country with a group of six, including two members of parliament, to gain moral and financial support for the strikers. "The strike has already lasted four months," Mr. McKenna said. "Over a million miners are out. They and their families compose one tenth of Great Britain's population. They have been cut off from the dole or local relief, and are without help except that which may come from other unions, and from trade unionists of the world."

"More than two million children of the strikers are starving—nothing less."

"Poverty is so extreme and the strikers so anxious to win that 1,000 of them have parted with their children—giving them to workers in other parts of the empire."

"Before the strike the average wage was $2.25 and $2.50 a day, or $9 or $10 a week, with which to support a family. Many of them didn't get that, and now that's cut off. It was hardly enough to keep body and soul together."

SET DATE FOR TRIAL

WOLF RETURNS TO WALL STREET

Suspect Lamar of Causing Violent Fluctuation in Stocks on Market

New York — (P) — "The Wolf of Wall Street" is back in his old hunting grounds.

The presence here of David Lamar, called the Wolf because of his spectacular financial raids was revealed when he was served with a subpoena to appear in court Wednesday and tell what he knows of alleged manipulations of the stock of Consolidated Distributors Inc., which deals in motor accessories.

"The stock has fluctuated during recent weeks so violently that an investigation was begun by the New York Stock Exchange. Lamar was not suspected, however, until large transactions were traced to his brokers, Ayres and Wright. The firm is not a member of the exchange, however, and the exchange investigators could not force it to tell who was back of the transactions."

The office of the state attorney general took up the case and when agents went to serve a subpoena on R. W. Wright, member of the firm, they found the Wolf having lunch with him. They then produced a second subpoena for Lamar. Neither man is charged with an offense against the law.

Pollen Tests Show Whether One May Contract Hay Fever

(This is the second of a series of five articles on hay fever.)

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor Journal of the American Medical Association

During the spring, tree pollens are the most common offenders in causing hay fever. In the early summer, the grasses, the rose, corn and the pollens of flowers such as the daisy, the dandelion and the lily, and those of such weeds as pigweed, smartweed, pepper grass and dock are concerned.

According to I. Chandler Walker, in the northern and mountain counties of California and in Oregon and Washington, timothy is much grown for pasture, and is an important cause of hay fever from June through August. Red top is a frequent cause from June through September, orchard grass from March through August, and so on through hundreds of plants which pollinate and to which some persons may be sensitive.

TRY EACH POLLEN

The physician who is trained in the investigation of this disease is the person who must determine whether or not the sufferer from hay fever is sensitive to any special pollen. The method by which he does this is relatively simple:

A small scratch is made on the inner surface of the forearm, not deep enough to draw blood, but deep enough to penetrate the outer layer of skin. A small amount of the dried pollen of the plant suspected is placed on the scratch, moistened with a drop of weak alkaline solution, and kept moist for thirty minutes.

Since the scratch is only one-eighth of an inch long, a great many tests may be made at one time. At the end of half an hour the material is washed off and the reaction of the skin to the pollen is studied. Several scratches are made and moistened with the alkaline solution but pollen is not applied. These are used to check the reaction against those with pollen.

COMPARE REACTIONS

It has been found that the pollens which do not affect the patient do not produce any change in the skin, so that the scratches into which they were rubbed look like the scratch into which no pollen was rubbed.

However, if the path it is sensitive to any pollen, there is itching and swelling of the skin around the cut for a space from one inch to two inches wide. This becomes more intense and the swelling increases in size the longer the pollen is kept on the scratch. The spot looks, in fact, much like a hive or mosquito bite. When this occurs, the patient is said to have a positive reaction.

Within an hour or two the itching or swelling disappears and after a few days the scratches heal without leaving a scar.

The only term that physicians have constantly used to describe this reaction is the statement that the person is sensitive to the pollen. In any event, the proof is absolute that certain persons react severely to exposure to certain pollens and that hay fever is the manifestation of this reaction.

FLAYS "DESSERTERS" OF PROGRESSIVE CAUSE

Milwaukee — (P) — The progressive designation is being misused by "stagnant candidates many of whom have deserted the progressive movement" in an effort to win support, Lieutenant Governor Henry A. Huber asserted in a speech here Tuesday.

STILL NO TRACE OF BURGLARS IN DENTAL OFFICES

Two Green Bay Dentists Also Robbed of Gold in Last Few Days

Efforts of Appleton police to locate the chief or thieves who forced entrance into the offices of five dentists here between Saturday noon and Monday morning have thus far proved fruitless. The burglars escaped with more than $200 in solder gold, plate gold and money. In all cases entrance was made by use of a casing knife which was used to pry back the locks to the office doors.

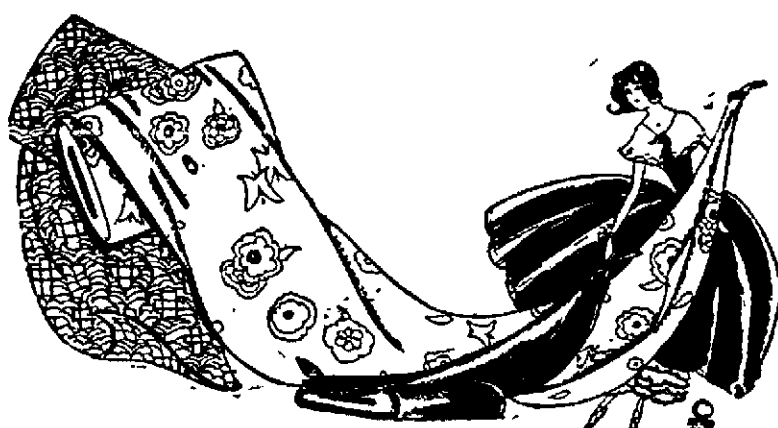

Police believe that the burglaries were committed by a gang which works exclusively in dental offices, carrying off gold used in the profession and money. It is thought probable that the thefts were the work of the same persons who secured about $35 in gold Saturday night by burglarizing two dental offices at Green Bay. Methods used were the same as those adopted to gain entrance here.

Dr. M. N. Duxbury in the Bellin building, and Dr. E. A. Stenger in the Herriek building, are the two Green Bay dentists whose offices were robbed.

Appleton dentists whose offices were burglarized between Saturday noon and Monday morning are: Dr. H. N. Delbridge, 101 W. College-ave; Dr. E. J. Ladner, 107 E. College-ave; Dr. H. L. Playman, Dr. Raymond VanSusteren and Dr. A. E. Reiter, who occupy offices in the same building at 110-112 W. College-ave.

"There are progressives who today flaunt upon their political banners old words of praise of the elder La Follette and by such use seek the patronage of the intelligent electorate of Wisconsin. They endeavor to capitalize their early associations to mask the fact that they have betrayed and deserted the movement."

REGULATING UTILITIES

Charles B. Perry, conservative candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, is leveling some strong criticism upon the State Railroad commission, charging that through its functioning the people of Wisconsin "have had saddled upon them an interest charge upon watered and over-capitalized utility issues."

It is an odd circumstance that so much is made of the public utility law in this state and its administration by the Progressives, who have complete control of the board, while at the same time the utilities of Wisconsin are among the most profitable in the country and enjoy what would commonly be regarded as high rates. This is contrary to the philosophy of the Progressive movement, which seems to hold that no business should be very profitable, least of all that engaged in public service, for instance, its politicians say the most unpleasant things about the Esch-Cummins railway act, charging that it guarantees earnings at profits to the railroads, whereas a matter of fact it does nothing of the kind, while they shut their eyes to the Wisconsin utility law which recognizes the right of public service corporations to earn net profits of approximately seven per cent, and which are in a practical sense guaranteed by the rates fixed by the Railroad commission. Certainly, there is a nearer application of the principle of guaranteeing returns under the Wisconsin law and procedure than there is nationally in regard to railroads under the Esch-Cummins act.

Mr. Perry says there is watered stock and over-capitalized issues in our utilities, and in some instances they are "so flagrantly in excess of actual investments, that this fact materially affects the charges made for service and rates." We have no direct information as to whether this charge is true, but if it is true the responsibility rests with the State Railroad commission, and back of that the state administration and political organization which control the commission.

We have believed that the utility law of this state operated to the advantage of both utilities and the public. In principle it is undoubtedly a sound law, and it is a fact that generally speaking the public service in Wisconsin is of a higher and better order than that found in states where utilities are not enabled by legislation to earn a fair return on their investments. However, if they have been allowed to inflate these investments beyond actual capital employed, that is a different matter.

The point that should not be lost upon the public is that the politicians and their supporters who condemn the Esch-Cummins law do so in the face of the fact that the Wisconsin utility law confers far greater benefits upon public service corporations than does the railway act upon railroads. Both laws are sound and constructive in principle. The administration of either may be prejudiced or detrimental to the public, but there is less opportunity for this in the railway act than in the Wisconsin utility law. The railroads are guaranteed no returns whatever, but must depend for earnings upon the efficiency of their operation and competency of management, under rates fixed by a body having no relation to the Esch-Cummins law, namely the Interstate Commerce commission. In Wisconsin the rates are established by the same body that authorizes the stock and bond issues and approves their capitalization. Whatever criticism might attach to the Esch-Cummins law is thrice applicable to the Wisconsin utility act.

MOTOR TRUCKS AND FREIGHT

The Interstate Commerce Commission is taking testimony this summer upon the relative value of motor truck transportation as distinguished from rail transportation, together with the effects upon the latter. The evidence thus far adduced seems to show that the motor truck has no place in long haul traffic. In this field the railroads are alone and, aside from existing or potential water competition, promise to remain so indefinitely. In the beginning, motor trucks sought to operate as long haul as well as short haul carriers. They have not been successful in long haul transportation, and it is doubtful if they ever will be.

In the short haul field the motor truck is doing a large business, and its future there appears to be assured. There are authorities on transportation who claim that in this service it is not injurious to the railroads, for the reason that it handles a class of business which has heretofore been unprofitable to the railroads. It is of course a well known fact that real railway earnings come from long hauls and through business. That is why so many small railroads have been forced to consolidate with larger systems or have gone into bankruptcy, having too small percentage of profitable freight traffic.

Some of the testimony before the Interstate Commerce commission seems to bear out the conclusion that motor truck transportation is primarily a local distribution of goods, principally foodstuffs; that tonnage of goods hauled over sixty miles is small, and that where it is hauled more than sixty miles it usually consists of a special commodity like household goods, etc.; that truck haulage is largely a direct distribution of goods to their final use; that the owner-operator hauls the bulk of highway tonnage. These conclusions do not, of course, mean that truck transportation will not be developed into large corporation carriers, for there is already a tendency evident in this direction, but they do seem to be sound in the argument that freight traffic over long hauls will be confined to railroads and waterways. The railroads, however, have one legitimate claim on present day competition of motor trucks, that is that they shall be subjected to taxation and regulation that will put them on a par relatively with the restrictions imposed on the railway carrier.

SHADY POLITICS

A Madison newspaper has applied for a writ of mandamus demanding that the secretary of state make public nomination papers, inferring that the secretary has withheld such papers from the public. The application was specially directed to the nomination papers filed by Senator Lenroot. Writs of this kind are asked for only when a right is denied. The action was taken by a newspaper supporting Mr. Ekern for governor and opposing Mr. Zimmerman, who is secretary of state and who is also a candidate for governor on the Progressive ticket. Its purpose obviously was to discredit Mr. Zimmerman. A statement issued by L. B. Nagler, cashier in Mr. Zimmerman's office, says:

Neither William T. Evjue (publisher of the newspaper suing out the writ of mandamus) nor any one purporting to represent him in any capacity has ever requested permission of the secretary of state or Mr. Brown, the filing clerk, to copy the names on the nomination papers of Irvine L. Lenroot, and therefore, such request has not been refused or denied. ***** Section 14.29 (9) of the statutes provides a means whereby anyone may obtain certified copies of any document on file in the state department, and, had Mr. Evjue been less interested in playing a shady political trick on behalf of the Madison ring he would have taken advantage of this provision instead of appealing to the court and falsely accusing Secretary of State Fred R. Zimmerman of refusing a request that was not made.

The public may draw its own conclusion as to the character of politics back of this move which sought to compromise Mr. Zimmerman.

TODAY'S POEM

By HAL COCHRAN

Whether you're wealthy or whether you're not, is not just a question of how much you've got. That angle to riches is all tommyrot. Let's thrash the thing out and just see if it's not.

The man who is poor, though quite happy at heart, 'cause living through life he is doing his part can always at worst, breathe the free open air, and say to the whole world, "By golly, I'm fair."

He holds his head high, since his conscience is clear. There's nothing on earth that he ever need fear. His bread and his butter may come rather tough, but at least, when he gets them, it isn't on bluff.

Then, turn to the man who has money galore, so much that the one thing he craves for, is more! He views all the world with a sort of a doubt, 'cause money is something to worry about.

If you have enough to go lightly along, and keep on the right road, and off of the wrong, you needn't much worry. Turn cheerfulness loose, 'cause say, after all, you're as rich as the deuce.

BROMIDES THAT AIN'T

Nearly all the popular remedies which pass as bromide preparations—usually the term "bromo" is incorporated in the trade name of the medicine—purport to be comparatively harmless. Yet grave poisoning, and in too many instances fatal effects have been caused by these pain killers which are freely sold to the public, without any restriction.

There is a vicious circle involved in the practice of taking these "bromo" nostrums. In the first place the resort to such drugs becomes easier and easier with repeated indulgence until the victim becomes habituated and in time suffers from a craving which is very hard to resist as long as the stuff is obtainable. Then the drug itself, the acetanilid, phenacetin or other coaltar derivative, not only benumbs pain, distress, worry or anxiety, but dulls the normal sense of fatigue, so that the victim fails to seek rest when rest is imperative. The drug, moreover, has an insidiously destructive effect upon red blood corpuscles and a very indirect effect upon the heart, whereby anemia and heart muscle impairment develop from prolonged and habitual use. The depraved states weaken the victim's will power and tend to break down his normal endurance, so that he finds all the more reasons or excuses for taking the stuff.

I do not mean to condemn acetanilid, phenacetin, "aspirin" (acetyl salicylic acid) or other coaltar derivative which may be medicinally used for the relief of pain. In many cases such medicines are not only justifiable but even helpful in the cure of the disease which is responsible for the pain. But I do wish to warn the uninitiated about the risks involved in trifling with such drugs, the general and at present legitimate use of popular nostrums which purport to cure minor ailments of all kinds, and the moral certainty of grave impoverishment of the general health from the habitual or prolonged use of such drugs. There have been many actual fatalities from the unwise use of these drugs in nostrums purporting to be "harmless" remedies for headache, neuralgia, "colds," "grippe," "neuritis," "rheumatism," and the like—the coroner's verdict in these cases has been carefully reviewed for publication and so the name of the nostrum has not appeared.

It is a good and I think a wise precaution. If one must resort to such drugs for pain to the medicine, then not only helps to relieve the pain, but also diminishes the danger of serious embarrassment of the heart. It is indeed a foolhardy trick to take a dose of such medicine and then go right on with your ordinary activities—as though the stuff were a miraculous trouble solvent without a possibility of untoward effect.

The popular acetyl salicylic—better known by the trade name of, "aspirin"—is among the least poisonous of these coaltar pain killers, but it is by no means a harmless drug and I should prefer a mild headache or other simple ill to the effect of "aspirin" for my own well being. I believe a great deal in "for chronic health impairment, particularly "nervous" trouble is due to the unwarranted use of "aspirin" as a habit.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Maternity

Is a woman under 40 taking a risk in having children until we are in a financial position to take care of them. (R. C. A.)

Answer—No. Perhaps your husband will realize when it is too late, that he is going making a grave mistake. Hard going or poverty with children is not so bad, not nearly so bad as saving and accumulation of wealth without 'em. It is a darn sight easier to be poor and up against it, or to save, with children than it is without 'em. Your husband is a short sighted man. Kids run about the price of davenports or Fords, but it is impossible to determine their resale value because nobody wants to sell 'em even when they are several years old. Marriage with a partner who thinks children to expensive ought to be spelled marriage.

Q. Is there any great likelihood of a person's being struck by lightning?

A. It is estimated that only six or seven people in a million are struck by lightning.

Q. Does sewer gas cause manholes to blow off?

A. Sewer gas may have in it leakage from illuminating gas pipes, but the gases which cause explosions in dead ends or at manholes are more often due to gasoline accumulations from cleaning establishments, garages, or from the oil streets.

Q. What is the Archio Volume?

A. The Archio Volume is a compilation of archaeological writings of the Sanhedrin and Talmud of the Jews. These are official documents made in these courts in the days of Christ. The writings are taken from manuscripts in Constantinople and the records of the senatorial docket taken from the Vatican at Rome.

Q. Are there any authentic data as to a movement in the New England States, during the War of 1812, looking to a separation from the Union and annexation to Canada?

A. Speaking of the assertion that the New England States threatened secession during the War of 1812, Andrew McLaughlin says: "It was commonly supposed that it (the Hartford Convention) would plot a disruption of the Union; but it simply drew up remonstrances, and proposed amendments to the Constitution intended to protect a minority of the States against unwelcome Federal legislation."

Q. What are the principal uses of nitrate of soda?

A. It is estimated that from 35-41 per cent of nitrate of soda is used in the manufacture of explosives; that from 40-55 per cent for fertilizer and from 10-20 per cent in chemical, glass, and dye works.

Q. Is the United States paper currency made of two pieces of paper put together with silk threads between?

A. It is just one piece of paper with a design on each side. The silk threads in this paper are a distinctive feature of the paper used in making United States money. The silk threads are inserted in the paper during the process of its manufacture.

Q. Did Patrick Henry ever serve as United States Senator?

A. Patrick Henry declined the following offices: United States Senator, Secretary of State in Washington's Cabinet, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Governor of Virginia, and Envoy to France. He had served several times in the Virginia legislative body and as governor.

Q. What is the answer to the King's Speech in Parliament called?

A. The Address is the answer to the King's Speech, moved in both Houses. In former times it contained an answer to each paragraph in the speech, but is now a single resolution expressing the thanks of the House to the Sovereign. Each House deliberates over the contents of the speech and takes a vote. If any amendments condemning the policy of the Government

"THE DYBBUK" IN A SCIENTIFIC AGE

Most lovers of the drama have by this time either seen in the theatre or read in books from S. Ansky's famous play, "The Dybbuk." It would be hard to escape it even if one tried. Written in Yiddish, it was produced in most of the chief theatres in the world, including the Yiddish Art Theatre in New York. Then it was translated into English and became the sensation of the season in the Neighborhood Playhouse. Next it was published in book form and was widely heralded as a great reading play.

When I read it recently it was with a sense of astonishment that such a play had power to appeal to the people who pride themselves on living in a scientific age. There is little question about its greatness as a work of art. It has a good chance to go down in world dramatic literature as a classic. It must be tremendously effective as an acted play. There are times when it rises to heights of emotional intensity that make most of the Broadway successes seem by comparison to be manufactured of tin and cardboard, make-believe in their theatricality. "The Dybbuk" is not to be classed with "Lightin'," "Abie's Irish Rose" or anything of that sort. Such a comparison is like comparing "The Song of Songs" with "It Ain't Goin' Rain No More."

SHOWS HIS POWER

The appeal of "The Dybbuk" to contemporary audiences and readers shows the power of a genuine artist. Suppose a Broadway producer had been asked, before "The Dybbuk" had been heard of, whether a play based on the casting out of a spirit would appeal to a 20th century audience, whether he was willing to risk his money on such a play. He would undoubtedly have laughed.

"We live in a scientific age," he might have said. "People refuse to fall for that kind of thing. That was all right in the dark ages when the miracle plays made thousands shudder. But try to put on a genuine miracle play today and people laugh. To the middle ages the mouth of hell drama, today it represents comedy, and so with casting out devils or any other kind of spirits."

Something like that the Broadway producer would probably have said, but along comes S. Ansky, a Jewish playwright, and scores a sensation with the theme not only in his own language in the chief theatres of the world but in English among the very theatre goers that the Broadway producer has in mind.

Imagine a court scene enacted on the stage before a twentieth century audience in which the spirit of a man dead many years is called up from the grave to testify against a living person. Then imagine the living sentenced gravely and seriously on the basis of this testimony of the dead. Imagine further a rabbi going through the formula of casting out a disembodied spirit from a young girl who is "possessed" by it. And all of it presented as a matter of course, with the assumption for the time being that it all happened, that the testimony of the dead man was genuine and beyond suspicion of charlatanism.

All that and much more the person who witnesses "The Dybbuk" must believe for the period of the performance. If not, if he fails to get the illusion that this is genuine drama, the play falls so far as its concern with the audience is concerned. And those who have seen the drama testify that it is profoundly even to the erudite.

IS REAL TRIUMPH

Similar triumphs have been scored by other great dramatists. But only by great dramatists. The trivial writer who attempts such things only makes himself ridiculous.

Producers, publishers, magazine editors are always assuming that certain themes are not suitable for the day audiences and readers. "The Dybbuk" once more proves that any theme, no matter how fantastic, is suitable if it is treated by a genius.

There is literally nothing that the genuine artist may not discuss, if he discusses it adequately and beautifully it is its own justification. Even casting out spirits is not out of place as a literary theme in the twentieth century.

25 Local Pythians At State Meet

About 25 members of the local Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters attended the two day celebration Monday and Tuesday at Milwaukee in honor of Richard S. Witt, who was elected supreme chancellor of Pythians at Chicago last week. More than 10,000 Wisconsin Dokers and Pythians and Pythian Sisters from all parts of the United States and members of the order were present at the celebration.

The feature of the program for the first day was the initiation of 300 candidates into the Dramatic Order of Khossian. The class will be known as the R. S. Witt Honor class. A parade, two miles in length, composed of drill teams, marching clubs, degree teams, floats, and drum corps and lodge formations concluded the convention. Prizes amounting to $2,000 were awarded for marching units and floats. LaCrosse was chosen for the convention for 1927.

Among those from Appleton who attended the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. David Fleischner, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rosenthal, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Gmeiner, Mr. and Mrs. Ruebhen, Mr. and Mrs. George Schmidt, Theodore Brunke, A. J. Tschank, Peter Christensen, Wilmer Schlafer, Herman Heckert, J. A. Risse, Robert Schmitz, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmitz.

World's Most Famous Men Followed His Footsteps

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington—W. R. Campbell has been official guide at the State War, and Navy building under 16 secretaries of state, 14 secretaries of war and 11 secretaries of the navy.

It would have been 13 secretaries of the navy, only the Navy Department was crowded out, into another building, during the World War, and never managed to get back in again. Today, in reality, it's the State and War building, and at that, it houses but a small fraction of the War Department.

Campbell doesn't recall in just what year he did his first guiding, but "Grover Cleveland was president, Thomas F. Bayard was secretary of state, William C. Endicott was secretary of war and William C. Whitney was secretary of the navy," he says, which makes about 40 years of it.

"I was in the naval construction bureau for 18 or 20 years," relates the veteran clericone, "but my health broke down and I needed lighter work."

"Young Captain Poole was a superintendent of the States, War and Navy building then. 'How would you like,' he said, 'to try guiding?' I have been guiding people ever since, except during the World War, when the building was closed to visitors."

"You'd be surprised—the people I have guided. The greatest men and women of America and Europe—yes, and Asia and Africa, and many won by Mrs. Melvin Boese and Mrs. George Krueger. The next meeting of the club will be held on Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 31, at the home of Mrs. Gustave Solle, 713 E. Brewster-st.

an odd corner of the earth—I've shown about this building."

"It's rich in historical associations, you know," he continued. "Look, when Jefferson Davis was secretary of war that clock stood on his mantelpiece."

"That flag draped Lincoln's coffin when he was buried at Springfield."

"That one, over there, floated over Fort Sumpter."

"This is the one that General Allen hauled down when he left Germany."

The old guide could tell a rare story of the personalities of the celebrities with whom he's come in contact but, of course, he won't do it.

Concerning the wonders of the State, War and Navy building he can and will discourse endlessly,

HOMANS DEFEAT
THILMANYS IN
FAST BALL GAMEBoth Teams Play Excellent
Baseball Behind Good Pitching

Kaukauna—Homans' soft ball team defeated Thilmans 5 to 4 in a twilight league game Wednesday evening on the municipal grounds. The game was hard fought, both teams playing good ball. All of the scores were well earned. Peters pitched a good game for the winners as did Brenzel for the losers. Both teams supported their pitchers in great style.

Thilmans scored once in the first and Homans sent three runners home in the same inning. Thilmans scored again in the second while the Homans were held scoreless. The Thilmans mill game forced ahead in their half of the third by scoring two runs but Homans got both back in their half. That ended the scoring and from that time on the men went out one, two, three.

Mulfords play the Postals Thursday evening.

Thilmans lineup: Brenzel, Mink-bige, Carney, Schmalz, Lacy, Klammer, Gerend, Lazon, Beyer and Die.

Homans: Peters, Haemer, Griffith, Nelson, Tousey, G. Phillips, J. Phillips, Brenzel, Nichols and Ruggles.

MISS BLOCH IS BRIDE OF WRIGHTSTOWN MAN

Kaukauna—Miss Anna Bloch, daughter of Mrs. Charles Bloch, 233 Sarah-st. and Edmund Schellfount, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Schellfount of Wrightstown, were married at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning at Holy Cross church by Mr. P. J. Lochman. Only relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom witnessed the ceremony. A reception followed at the home of the bride. Miss Lorraine Schwin and Isidore Schellfount were the witnesses. The couple left at noon for a motor trip through Michigan and Canada. They will make their home at Kimberly where the groom is employed.

BOOTLEGGER ON TRIAL FOR SALE OF POISON ALKY

Richest Bootie in Buffalo Accused of Causing 46 Deaths

BY PAUL HARRISON
Buffalo, N. Y.—Once James C. Voelker was a bootlegger, and a good one. The white-aproned gentry of the Buffalo speakies had only to say "It's Voelker's" to assume any doubts of their patrons. His name carried such prestige that other jobbers borrowed it as a guarantee of their fiery products.

Now Voelker faces death in the electric chair. He is charged with first degree murder for partial responsibility for the wave of poison liquor which swept away forty-six lives in Canada and western New York.

UNHEARD OF PENALTY
It is unheard of to demand the death penalty for bootlegging. Voelker did not plot the deaths of more than two score persons whom he never had seen. Nor did he cause the deaths while engaged in the commission of a felony. Bootlegging is not a felony, and for that matter, transportation and sale of wood alcohol are not even illegal.

All in all, the charge looked slightly ridiculous when it first was placed. Voelker's attorneys laughed, talked of it as a bluff. But District Attorney Guy B. Moore has found a certain clause in the homicide law and precedent, both of which, he says, will apply to the Voelker case.

It seems, according to New York statutes, that the killing of a human being is murder in the first degree when it is committed "by an act imminently dangerous to others, and evincing a depraved mind, regardless of human life, although without a premeditated design to effect the death of any individual."

For instance, in 1924, there was a strike in Buffalo. One Mike Jernatowski, striker, tried to do his part in intimidating the hated "scabs" by firing a revolver in the district where the strikebreakers lived. A bullet entered a house and killed a woman.

Mike did not try to kill the woman; he never even saw her. He fired only to frighten. Yet he was sentenced to death and the verdict was affirmed by the court of appeals.

"The Voelker case is directly similar to that of Jernatowski," says Moore. "An intent to kill is not a necessary element under the statute. Voelker sold liquor that caused death. We will show that Voelker knew, when he sold that liquor, that it was deadly poisonous. That he sold it with reckless indifference of the consequences is evidence enough of a depraved mind.

"I feel confident that we will secure a conviction."

A member of defense counsel, Bernard B. Swartz, says:

"The entire case, if it ever comes to trial on this charge, will hinge about the question of whether Voelker knew that the alcohol he sold was poisonous. I am sure that he did not know this."

CHEMIST'S MISTAKE
"Voelker sent a sample of his shipment to laboratories for an analysis. A chemist started the test, leaving some of the alcohol in a tube. He then went to lunch and later called his partner, asking him to look at the test, and if it was not discolored to mark it O. K. By some mistake, the alcohol was passed."

The prosecution, however, charges that Voelker was present when the test was made and that the stuff was shown to contain 93.9 per cent wood alcohol.

Attorney Swartz speaking again: "It is inconceivable that the prosecution can show why the most reputable bootlegger in Buffalo would deliberately sell poison and thus ruin his very remunerative business."

"That's easy enough," says District Attorney Moore. "He did it for the enormous profit involved and because he thought he could get away with it."

This alcohol came from Germany and cost 17 cents a gallon. Smuggled into Canada, it brought $12 to $17 a gallon. It was not a denatured product, but a good grade of methanol alcohol, most deadly of all, and the kind from which the poison cannot be removed. Hundreds are killed annually by it."

CUSTOMERS FALL OFF
Meanwhile, western New York has been flooded with prohibition and alcohol officers. Officials have pleaded that drinking be stopped if for no other reason than to keep the death toll from going higher. The warning has been heeded. There are no buyers, and few sellers. Gin is $10 a fifth of a gallon. There is scarcely any beer.

Chemists report amazing amounts

ENORMOUS POWER DEVELOPMENT IN NORTH WISCONSIN

North American System to Buy Power from Chalk Falls Plant

Construction of the largest hydro electric development on the Menominee River in northern Wisconsin and upper Michigan will be financed by a part of the $3,000,000 issued of Northern Electric Co., 3-year 6 per cent first mortgage bonds.

Two stations having an estimated output of 66,000,000 kilowatt hours and a new transmission line are included in the project.

Work has already been started on the generator stations, which will be in operation next spring. The power of one station, located at Chalk Falls Rapids, near Amberg, will be sold outright to The Electric Co., Milwaukee. The second station has been leased to the Northern Paper Mills, Green Bay.

The addition to The Electric Co., will develop around 40,000,000 kilowatt hours a year and will tie in to the general system by connection to of liquor brought to them for analysis. Bootleggers are in a frenzy and have lost thousands of dollars. And the boycott goes on.

CREDITORS CAN'T AGREE ON BANKRUPTCY TRUSTEE

First meetings of creditors of two bankrupts were held before C. E. Behnke, referee in bankruptcy, Monday and Tuesday. Monday afternoon, creditors of Earl F. Weaver of Elcho, met at Mr. Behnke's office in the Insurance building but the meeting was adjourned until Friday afternoon when the creditors were unable to agree on a trustee. The meeting Friday afternoon will be held at the courthouse at Antigo.

Tuesday afternoon a hearing was held at Green Bay by Creditors of John Prussant, Green Bay grocer. John Lewellyn of Green Bay, was elected trustee and he was placed under $1,000 bond. Frank Blahnik, Arthur Dennison and Henry Ryan, all of Green Bay, were appointed appraisers.

EARNINGS INCREASE
The earnings statement of the North American Co. and subsidiaries for the 12 months ending June 30, 1926, to be published within 10 days, will show the system to have had a gross revenue of more than $100,000,000 a year for the first time.

Net revenues are also increasing, the 12 months to Mar. 31, the net being equal to $3.35 a share on 3,756,800 common shares as compared to $3.12 in the calendar year of 1925.

TITTEMORE FARM PLATFORM URGED ON STATE VOTERS

Perry Tells Wautoma Audience He Wants State and Federal Cooperation

Wautoma. —(P)—The farm relief program proposed in the platform adopted by the state conservative Republican organization was recommended to voters by Assemblyman Charles B. Perry, candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, in an address here.

"Our farm program, seeking state and federal cooperation to give emergency farm relief, is the plan of J. N. Tittmore, at one time president of the national society of American Equity and for many years its Wisconsin president," Mr. Perry said. "I know of no man in Wisconsin who has so steadfastly fought the fight of the farmer. Like myself, he has no particular itch to hold office. He wants to do things of helpful result to the farmers of our state, so he accepted the draft of the convention as its candidate for lieutenant governor."

He has written the study of years and the experience of many years into that platform and I believe that it offers a true and practical solution to this important phase of our existence as this existence is affected by the prosperity and well being of our great agricultural interest.

"You farmers and you business men, every payer of taxes, direct or indirect, is paying too much for the kind of government you are getting."

"Big business is so systematized that production costs are known. The machinery of government has done much along these lines. It has done little or nothing for the farmer as an aid to him in the ascertainment of what it costs him to raise a bushel of potatoes, of grain or the cost of his milk or of his cattle. In Wisconsin, departments of our state have been organized and have been operating along various lines, but the concrete result to the farmer is still to be ascertained."

Varicose Veins Reduced or Money Back, Says Voigt's Drug Store and Schlitz Bros. Co.

Simple Home Treatment That Is Giving Amazing Results

The world progresses. Today ailments that took weeks to cure can now be ended in a few days. If you have varicose veins or bunches you can start today to bring them back to normal size, and if you are wise you will do so.

Just get an original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil at any dispensing pharmacist and apply it night and morning to the enlarged veins. It is very powerful and penetrating, and only a little is required.

After a few days' treatment the veins will begin to grow smaller and by regular use will soon reduce to normal.

Moore's Emerald Oil is a marvelous healing agent. One application for instance stops the itching of eczema, and a few applications cause the eruptions to dry up, scale off and completely disappear. It is equally as effective in barber's itch, salt rheum, redness and inflammatory skin trouble.

People who want to reduce varicose veins, or get rid of eczema, ulcers, or piles in a few days should not hesitate to get a bottle at once. It is so powerful that a small bottle lasts a long time. Any pharmacy can supply you. Voigt's Drug Store and Schlitz Bros. Co. sells lots of it. adv.

Falls Funny When They Happen To Other Fellow

A fall is funny all right—for somebody else!

In spite of the fact that census figures show close to 12,000 deaths and 50,000 injuries resulting yearly from the falls that people suffer, nobody ever falls to have an impulse to laugh when some unfortunate human takes a tumble.

But there's this to console you if you fall: People laugh at the falls of others because they remember their own drops, and unconsciously get satisfaction out of the fact that someone else probably feels as dumb as they did. It's the psychology of misery loving company, you know.

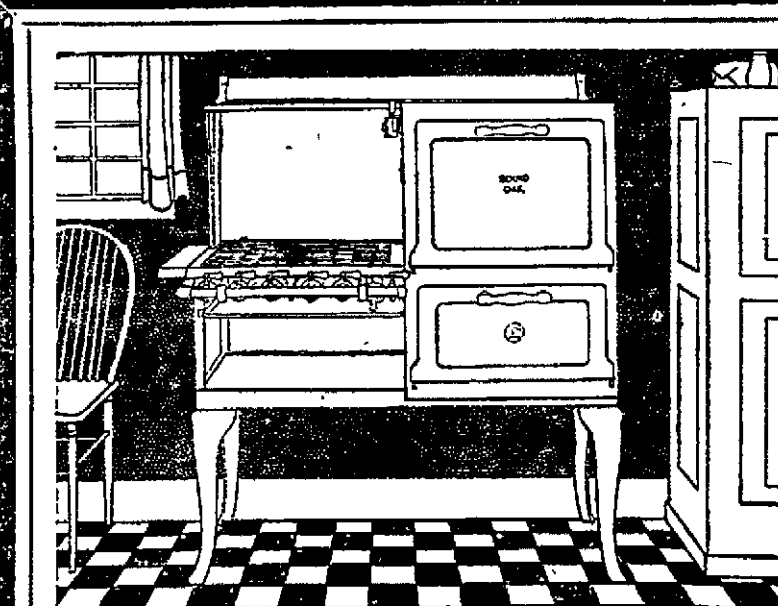

And if you inquire you'll find that everyone has had one or two funny, albeit embarrassing, slips during his life. Therefore the close bond of fellowship and mirth between humans in these terrible predicaments. The sudden descent of a person from an upright position to the street level is nothing but ludicrous, especially if the person is by nature dignified. And slips do not discriminate. They fall to the lot of the dignified and undignified alike.

The movie producer capitalizes on this common fellowship. It is a rare slapstick comedy that does not have its characters slipping on a banana peel, stumbling on a rug or sliding about throughout two or three reels. But this at least can be said in favor of those who laugh—the falls that are funniest are those that cause the least damage. Slippery sidewalks, high heels, unexpected bumps in the sidewalk give rise to the humor of the tumble.

SOME ARE SERIOUS
There are many falls, however, that are not so funny. Advocates of safety first point out that the enormous number of serious accidents that happen in our homes are the result of carelessness and a great number of

ONLY TWELVE AT SERVICE IN SLAIN RECTOR'S CHURCH

Ghostly Memories Awakened by Building Where Slain Rector Preached

BY LEON M. SILER
New Brunswick, N. J.—Twelve persons sit at Sunday morning service in the Church of St. John the Evangel here.

One of them, an elderly woman, these mishaps are falls. The commonest fall from a high place is the fall from a ladder. Men persist in climbing up to repair some part of the house on a wiggly ancient ladder so it is not surprising that accidents result. Falls down stairs or off chairs are other common mishaps that are not so funny.

closes her eyes, nods, and awakens with a start.

It is difficult to follow the sermon which the rector is delivering. For he is reading from a manuscript, and he reads hastily. In his voice there is no eloquence.

"Bear witness for Christ both with your lips and your lives," he urges his hearers.

"Too many think that religion is all very well, but is not to be talked of."

"Never put off the armor of God, for the enemy always is ready to attack; day or night."

Platitudes, you might criticize, were you one of the twelve.

So meager a congregation calls forth but meager thought, the rector might respond.

The sermon is over now. It has lasted twelve minutes.

A hymn is announced. The rector sings the first verse in a clear, strong voice, then walks from the pulpit into a wing, out of the congregation's sight.

You hear no voice now, save the voice of the organ as three more verses are played.

The twelve, it seems, have not been moved to voice their faith in song. And there is no choir.

An "Amen" is intoned by the organ, and then from the wing into which the rector has disappeared the words of the benediction are heard.

The twelve remain bowed in personal prayer for a moment, then silently file down the blood-red carpet which stretches to the door—the elderly woman who nodded, a girl in white, two children and miscellaneous men.

It is summer in New Brunswick. The members of the Church of St. John the Evangel, mostly wealthy and fashionable, have gone to mountain and seashore, you are told.

Thus the presence of but twelve to hear the rector's hasty sermon is accounted for—

The presence of but twelve in this Church of St. John the Evangel where the buoyant, suave, polished Dr. Edward W. Hall once preached, and the youthful comely, dreaming Mrs. Eleanor Mills once sang in the choir?

POLICE PROBE DEATH OF FOND DU LAC MAN

Fond du Lac—While relatives believed that he was in Chicago, where he was supposed to have gone Sunday on an excursion train, Joseph Huck, 60, nursery salesman, was lying dead in Luco creek, where his body was found a short distance south of highway 31 by fishermen. Approximately $100 in cash and a silver watch, believed to have been in Mr. Huck's possession, are missing. Because of the mysterious circumstances surrounding the death, county officials have started an investigation.

TWO MORE FINED FOR HAVING BUT 1 LICENSE PLATE

Milwaukee and Appleton Men Picked Up in Police Campaign

Two motorists appeared in municipal court Wednesday morning, as the result of a drive by Appleton police to arrest all drivers whose automobiles are not equipped with two license plates. The police were instructed by Chief George T. Prim at the beginning of the week to issue summons to all motorists who fail to comply with the law which requires two license plates for every car.

Ed Vandenack, 133 Sixth-st., Milwaukee, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving an automobile with only one license plate, and paid a fine of $10 and costs of $3.20 to Judge Theodore Berg. Vandenack was arrested Tuesday afternoon.

George Spaulding, 913 W. Lawrence-st., arrested Tuesday afternoon on a similar charge, explained to the court that he had lost the license plate shortly before his arrest, and the case was dismissed.

Bert Weyenberg of Appleton, arrested Wednesday morning on a charge of driving an automobile without a license, pleaded guilty in municipal court and paid the usual fine of $10, with costs of $3.20.

Alvin Wehman, 1205 E. Pacific-st., who was arrested late Sunday evening on the charge of driving his automobile at 27 miles an hour on W. College-ave., pleaded guilty Wednesday morning. He also paid a fine of $10 and costs.

Two Stolen Cars

Appleton police have been requested this week to look for two stolen automobiles. One of these is a 1926-model Ford coupe for which no license had been issued. The machine was stolen Monday at Wausau. The motor number of the coupe is 14605629, and the car was equipped with four Mason balloon tires. A reward of $25 is offered for recovery, or for information leading to recovery of a 1926-model Nash sedan which was stolen last Thursday at Madison. The machine carried serial No. 82736 and motor No. 82668.

HORSESHOE TOURNAMENT IS STATE FAIR FEATURE

One of the many new innovations that promises to make the 1926 State Fair, Aug. 30 to Sept. 4 the most complete exposition ever held in the Badger state, will be a horseshoe pitching contest.

Among the entries is Floyd Billings, present state champion. The first prize winner will be given $100 and a silver traveling trophy to be kept for one year and permanent possession of the State Fair cup, donated by the State Fair Board. To win permanent possession of the traveling trophy, however it must be won three times. The winner of the fair tournament will also be presented with a gold medal.

Second prize winner will receive $75 in cash and a silver medal, and the third prize winner $50 in cash and a bronze medal. There will also be other cash prizes. The State board will donate $500. Wisconsin State Horseshoe Pitchers Assn., $100. The meet will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, starting at 8:30 a. m.

NOISE CUTS 7 YEARS OFF LIFE OF CITY FOLKS

Constant Turmoil Undermines Efficiency, Investigators Find

Noise is cheating the average city dweller out of seven precious years of life. The startling condition in American cities, roused for by Herman K. Bundesen, Chicago Commissioner of Health, has been unearthed by the Celotek Institute of America in its study of the elimination of noise in factories and streets, according to T. B. Munroe, head of the institution and in charge of this investigation.

"There is no way of measuring how much the constant noise of a city cuts into the efficient and mental alertness of people who must live and work in the midst of this turmoil," says Mr. Munroe. "The National Safety Council, in a recent investigation, stated that a large percentage of factory accidents laid to 'carelessness' on the part of machine operators was really the result of their intense weariness caused by working so close to ceaseless noise."

"Noise is like a poisonous but odorless gas," he declares. "It does its work of undermining efficiency and health without our knowledge. Because people's ears do not get tired under the constant battering of sound, they do not realize that it is really making both nerves and body utterly fatigued."

"Unless people can give body and nerves complete rest by undisturbed sleep at night, body tissues will ultimately succumb and begin to wear out."

RAD FOR BABIES

The commuter who spends his nights in the quiet of some suburban village has a running start on the city man, according to the institute. The night time roar and rumble of the city, although it does not keep one awake, is a constant drain on the nerves, and results in high blood pressure and conditions of a similar nature.

City babies who take their naps on porches and beside windows opening on street car tracks may be cheated of inches in stature, as well as years of life, goes on the report. The baby grows while he sleeps. During his first year on earth his brain must grow to two and a half times its size at birth and his body to three times its size at birth. If his slumber is disturbed by noise his growing time is shortened and his health is menaced.

City noise is practically all caused by traffic, the institute finds, and street cars and heavy trucks are the principal offenders.

Noise increasing

Elevated trains, despite their reputation for shattering the silence, are not so noisy to the ears of the street level pedestrian as are the street cars. Automobiles accused of adding to the noise of the city, are in fact quieter than horse drawn vehicles.

"American cities are becoming noisier every day," states Mr. Munroe. "Automobiles have increased at least 150 per cent in the last ten years; practically all cities are growing, which means more heavy traffic, more building, more noises and confusion in streets which are usually too narrow to carry their load."

"A great deal of this noise can be eliminated, and the institute is attempting to find out which city noises can be curbed and how it can be done. In addition to our experimental work, we will make a survey of

KIMBERLY GIRL SENT TO INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Elizabeth Kroenke, 15, of Kimberly was sentenced Wednesday morning by Judge Theodore Berg, acting for County Judge Fred Heinemann who is away on a vacation, to the Wisconsin Industrial School for Girls at Milwaukee until she is 18 years of age. The girl admitted charges made by her step-mother, Mrs. Ida Kroenke of Kimberly, that she would not obey her parents, that she stayed out late nights, and that she had improper relations with a number of men.

Mrs. Edward Schueler, 123 E. College-ave., motored to Fond du Lac Wednesday. She was accompanied by relatives from Green Bay.

Place Rex Beach Story On List Of Summer Books

"The Silver Horde" by Rex Beach, is included in the list of books prepared by the staff of the Appleton Library, as desirable for summer reading. These books may be drawn from the library on the special summer privilege plan which permits patrons to draw the books on one card and keep them until Oct. 1. The story by Rex Beach deals with the duel of a young lover in search of a fortune, and millionaire whom he hopes to make his father-in-law. The story is especially interesting to those who are fond of the west. It contains some fine descriptions of western life.

Other books on the list are: "Eben Holden," Irving Bachelor. A rambling sentimental novel of life in the Adirondacks 50 years ago. Interest centers in the faithful old servant, Eben Holden.

"Lorne Doone," Blackmore. The struggle of the sturdy yeoman hero against the Doones of Exmoor, Devon, a band of aristocratic outlaws. "Jane Eyre," Charlotte Bronte. This original love story of a hero, elderly and not handsome, and a plain-faced heroine is Miss Bronte's masterpiece. "Song of the Lark," Willa Cather. A vivid picture of American life, presenting the story of a poor young girl who becomes an opera star. "Richard Carvel," Winston Churchill. An autobiography dealing with the period of the Revolution. Maryland and its fine old gentry. "Lord Jim," Joseph Conrad. Considered, by many, Conrad's masterpiece. "Soldiers of Fortune," Richard Harding Davis. Scenes of action and adventure all over the globe.

Mrs. Edward Brill submitted to an operation at St. Elizabeth's hospital Thursday morning.

LENROOT POINTS TO FARM VOTING RECORD

Whitewater —(AP)— Senator Irvine Lenroot was guest at a barbecue and festival here Thursday.

He went to Palmyra Thursday afternoon to speak on the steps that have been taken by the federal government for agricultural relief. He is asking farmers to compare the assistance given agriculture by the Washington government and that of the Madison government.

"I have voted for every piece of agricultural legislation that has passed in the last ten years," Senator Lenroot said. "I helped kill the McNary bill. That bill is drawn up for the special benefit of the wheat growers of the West and the cotton growers of the south. It discriminates against the dairy interests of Wisconsin and would have raised the price of food for every working man in Wisconsin."

MAYOR RULE RAPS LAXNESS IN CITY HALL OFFICES

SAYS COUNCIL SHOULD STOP JOB SHIRKING

Executive Wants Clearer Definition of Committee Jurisdiction

Charging that certain city officials are shirking their work, reporting at their offices late in the morning and leaving early in the afternoon, Mayor Albert C. Rule Wednesday night told the common council it was high time steps are taken to correct the alleged slothful manner in which these same employees have been conducting themselves.

He didn't mention any names, but in statements he made about "instruments," and "outside work" he apparently was referring to the city engineering department.

"The laxity with which certain officials are performing their work is appalling," he said. "They report late for work and leave early, apparently to supervise some outside work, but when their instruments are found where they belong and the officials cannot be located, it is evident they are not on the job."

GONE TOO MUCH

"I know of instances where at least one official has left his office Friday noon and has not been seen again until Monday morning. Nobody seems to know where he is or when he will return, and it is impossible to locate him. I have spoken about this matter to these persons, and so have several aldermen, but merely calling attention to the practice does not appear to remedy the matter. It is time the council is taking the situation in hand."

Calling attention to a conflict of council rules regarding supervision over various city departments, Mayor

WOMAN MUST REMEDY ZONING VIOLATION

Mrs. Mary Parker, 342 W. Commercial-st., charged with violation of a city zoning ordinance, has been given until Oct. 1 to remedy the violation. She pleaded not guilty to the charge when arraigned before Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court several weeks ago.

The rear wall of a garage built by Mrs. Parker is only three feet from the rear lot line instead of six feet as required by the building code, according to Walter O. Zschaechner, building inspector, and complainant in the case.

Rule urged that the rules be amended or a new resolution adopted which would place without any doubt, departmental jurisdiction in the hands of a designated person or committee.

Different committees have jurisdiction over different departments, according to the rules, while another rule states that the mayor shall have supervision over all departments. This is where the conflict lies, according to Mayor Rule.

The following rules are the ones he referred to:

"Committee on finance have jurisdiction over the departments of city clerk, city treasurer, city assessor, city attorney, sealer of weights and measures and weigh master."

"Committee on poor have jurisdiction over the commissioner of poor and the poor department."

"Board of health have jurisdiction over city physician, deputy health officer and city nurse."

"Committee on public grounds and buildings have jurisdiction over city hall janitor and his department, and campsites."

"Committee on streets and bridges have jurisdiction over the engineering and street departments and also over the departments of building and plumbing inspector."

The rule which conflicts with the above rules, according to the mayor, reads:

WHO IS BOSS?

"The mayor shall have supervision

over all city hall offices, officers and employees, and shall be ex-officio member of all committees."

It is evident that the rules first give the various committees jurisdiction over city departments, and then are reversed by vesting in the mayor supervision over the same offices, he pointed out to the council.

"Who really has jurisdiction over these departments?" he asked.

His suggestion that all city hall employees be ordered to report at their offices at a certain time in the morning before taking up any work outside the city hall met with a vigorous protest from Alderman Thompson, who said that if the work happened to be nearer the home of the employee, it would be a useless trip to report at the city hall first. Other aldermen agreed with the mayor's suggestion. All agreed with the mayor, however, that the whereabouts of city officials throughout the day should be known at all times.

No formal action on the matter was taken by the council, but it appears probable that the subject will be reintroduced for further consideration at future meetings.

Walnut-st., an employee of Glouberman-Gage Co., and Mrs. Robert Cosgrove Looze of Milwaukee are the largest creditors.

HEALTH RADIO TO BE FEATURE AT SEYMOUR FAIR

County Nurse Prepares Interesting Display for Big Exposition

A novel display is being arranged by Miss Marie Klein, county health nurse, for the Seymour fair the last week of this month. The exhibit will be housed in a tent and will be known as the "health food radio."

It will consist of fruits, vegetables and milk built up in the form of a radio outfit. The health antennae will be a double-barred cross, 2 by 3 feet, and will be strung with prunes and dried peaches. The loud-speaker will be made up of fresh vegetables, potatoes, turnips and a hollowed-out pumpkin.

The radio box and accessories will consist of graham crackers and oatmeal with prunes as trimming. Three eggs will provide the tubes, while an orange and apple will serve as the dials. A bottle of milk and a jar of tomatoes will be used as batteries. All wires will be made up by stringing macaroni on twine.

A "milk-drinking lady" will also constitute a part of the exhibit. The "lady" will be an automaton, and will constantly go through the motions of filling a glass of milk and of drinking.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kunitz and family and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schultz left Wednesday forenoon on a week's motor trip. They are attending the rodeo at Chicago, and will visit at Minneapolis later during the week.

Mrs. W. H. Meyer, of Milwaukee, is visiting for a few days with Mrs. Steinke, N. Durkee-st.

SUPERVISORY TEACHERS WILL ATTEND FAIR CAMP

Miss Nellie McDermott and A. L. Collar, supervisors of teachers of Outagamie-co., will attend the supervisors' conference which will be held from Aug. 30 to Sept. 4 at the state fair grounds at West Allis.

A special teachers' camp will be provided on the fair grounds, according to a communication from John Callahan, state superintendent of public instruction. Supervising teachers who attend have been requested to take their own towels and toilet necessities for the camp.

Morning hours at the fair will be devoted to conference sessions, while the afternoons will be used for a study of the state fair.

ELKS WILL MEET SEPT. 1 TO ELECT DELEGATES

The Elks club will hold a meeting on Wednesday, Sept. 1, to appoint delegates to the state convention at Green Bay on Sept. 17 and 18. About ten delegates from the local lodge will attend. They will be accompanied by the Appleton Elks' band.

A meeting of the committee in charge of circulation of petitions to raise $10,000 for the 120th Field Artillery band will be held in the near future to get the fund raising campaign underway. The proposition is being sponsored by Elk Club, which will attempt to get 5,000 signers before taking action on having the $10,000 placed on the city tax rolls.

NEW BRIDGES TO BE DEDICATED TO WAR VETERANS

Neenah Council Authorizes
American Legion to Select Bronze Marker

Neenah—At the meeting of the common council Wednesday evening was decided to dedicate the new bridges now in course of construction to the soldiers and sailors, and the American legion was authorized to procure a bronze tablet of whatever design they prefer for each structure, the expense to be borne by the city.

It was brought out during the meeting that the two new Denhardt and Appleton state bank plats would be approved as soon as they were presented to the city in complete form. A petition for a sidewalk on Fairview-ave was referred to the sidewalk committee. A petition for macadam on Higgins-ave was referred to the street committee with instructions to cover the street with a light coat of stone.

A resolution was adopted to construct a sewer on Eighth-st. The plans were approved and the board of public works was authorized to advertise for bids. Some time ago an ordinance was presented to do away with the flag phanty on Wisconsin-ave and replace it with a wig-wag signal. At the meeting Wednesday evening the mayor recommended that no change be made at the present time. A license was granted to the L. G. Barnes circus which is to exhibit in the city on Aug. 25.

Upon motion, the council decided to start condemnation proceedings in order to acquire the necessary property from J. J. Christensen in the opening of Klondyke-st in the First ward. During an informal discussion on the motorbus situation it was decided to take up the matter of arrival and departure of busses and the number to be operated at the hearing before the railroad commission at the city hall Thursday.

WANT BUSES TO EXTEND SERVICE

Rate Commission Hears City
Objection to Present
Schedules

Neenah—Wisconsin railroad commission is conducting a hearing at the city hall as the result of objections filed by City Attorney George Kelly to the petitions which the bus lines of Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat & Power company and the Wisconsin Power and Light company are required to make each year for the renewal of their permit to operate. In their request filed some time ago the lines asked to operate over the same routes they are at present following. The city of Neenah, through its attorney, is asking that the busses, instead of parking in the business district as they do now, operate over additional streets in other parts of the city, thus giving greater service.

GREEN BAY PRIEST
TALKS ON MEXICO

Neenah—The Rev. Joseph Van-Bogart of Green Bay was the speaker at the joint luncheon of the Neenah and Menasha Kiwanis clubs Wednesday noon at Valley Inn. His talk was on the Mexican situation and he reviewed both sides of it as accurately as he could gather it from reports from that country. He left it to members to draw their own conclusions.

E. F. U. DELEGATES AT FRATERNAL CONGRESS

Neenah—Orrin Thompson, supreme secretary of the Equitable Fraternal Union; Norton J. Williams, field manager; and Dlo Dunham, editor of the Friend and Guide, the official publication of the union, are at Buffalo this week attending the national fraternal congress. The congress opened Monday and will continue in session until the end of the week.

200 LEGIONAIRES WILL SPEND TWO DAYS IN CAMP

Neenah—Two hundred members of James P. Hawley post of the American Legion will leave Neenah Saturday afternoon for the first annual encampment to be held at Co. I rifle range on the lake shore south of Neenah. A tent large enough to accommodate the campers has been leased for sleeping quarters and mess hall. Sunday will be spent in competitive sports and games with a dinner in regular army style at noon. The post plans to make the two day outing an annual event for members of the legion and guests.

JUNIOR BALL TEAM
WINS FROM KIMBERLY

Neenah—The Neenah Junior hard ball Fox river valley league team defeated Kimberly 5 and 1 at Kimberly Wednesday afternoon. Friday the team will meet the Kaukauna team at Neenah.

DANES TO SEND DELEGATES TO STATE MEETING

Consider Establishment of Old Folks Home at Green
Bay Convention

Neenah—The Danish Brotherhood, composed of 114 members of Neenah, Menasha and Appleton, is planning to send a large delegation of members to its district convention at Green Bay Saturday, Sunday and Monday, Sept. 4, 5 and 6. The delegates are William Peterson of Neenah and Peter Larson of Appleton. The brotherhood is a fraternal organization and the district includes Wisconsin and northern Michigan. Leo Schubert of Neenah is president of the district; Peter Rasmussen of Racine secretary; and Hans Nelson, treasurer. The district convention last year was held in Neenah.

Several important questions will be discussed at the coming convention one of which will concern the building of a home for old people. It is understood that some of the district members are in favor of investing the funds that would be required for a new building and using the interest in paying the expense of aged members at old people's homes already established. In this way they claim a greater number could be accommodated.

FIFTY YEARS OLD
The Danish Brotherhood is one of the older fraternal organizations and has been in existence for nearly 50 years. It lost only three per cent of its members in passing through the readjustment rate period of 1919 in comparison with some which lost all the way from 25 to 50 per cent.

The district conventions are held each year for the purpose of discussing matters of importance and at the national convention which is held once in every four years. Each lodge is confined to two delegates at its district conventions regardless of the number of its members. The next national convention will be held in Omaha in 1927.

WANT FOUR SPEAKERS
AT HUNTERS' MEETING

Neenah—Fred R. Zimmermann, candidate for governor, and Mayor J. H. Denhardt have been secured as two of the speakers for the meeting of hunters to be held Friday evening, Aug. 27. It is planned to have four in all. Judge Roy Reed of Ripon and attorneys from Oshkosh and Appleton will be present. More than 1,500 invitations have been sent out to hundreds of Winnebago and other counties and the program committee is making daily visits to neighboring cities in an effort to arouse as much enthusiasm as possible in the organization of the new club. The committee visited Oshkosh Thursday.

PLAY LAST GAMES IN
BUSINESSMEN'S LOOP

Neenah—The closing games of the Business Men's league will be played Tuesday, Aug. 24. The finish of some of the teams will be close and it is expected a large crowd will be in attendance. The Kiwanis club will play Rotary on the First ward diamond, the Grocers will play the Neenah Times on the same diamond; and the Hardwood Knots will clash with the Softwood Knots on the Green.

NEENAH

SURPLUS STORY
BUNK, SOL SAYS

Treasurer Answers Opponent's
Criticism of Gorged
Treasury

Milwaukee—(AP)—State Treasurer Solomon Levitan told an audience here last night that "this noise about a big state surplus is empty talk of politicians, who know nothing about state finances."

He explained the system of receipts and disbursements and declared the state treasurer "has nothing to do with either reducing or increasing any state surplus."

"That rests with the legislature, and the state's executive," he said. "The state treasurer is merely the custodian of the funds which are entrusted to his care."

"One of my opponents is going up and down the state telling people about this mythical 20 million surplus, which he intends to cut down if he is elected," said Mr. Levitan. "There is no such 20 million surplus. Payments for highway construction during the past month have already reduced the balance on hand in all funds to $15,258,315.14. But this does not mean either that we have an 18 million surplus.

"My opponent is probably not aware that of this total now on hand, practically 4 1/2 millions are in trust funds, over which we have no jurisdiction. "It must be remembered that this is the time of year, when the state treasury always has the largest amount on hand. My opponent probably has overlooked the fact that the states income is collected all at one time, in the spring of the year, and that the funds now on hand must pay the bills for the ensuing ten months of the fiscal year."

FARMERS DEPEND ON MUTUAL RISKS

Insurance Commissioner
Says State Needs More
Small Companies

Eau Claire—(AP)—Town mutual insurance companies "are practically the farmers' only hope and reliance for insurance protection," Olaf H. Johnson, state insurance commissioner, told the Wisconsin Association of Insurance Agents at its convention here Wednesday night.

Commissioner Johnson also advocated a campaign of fire protection as a step towards the reduction of the heavy farm losses that result from wholly preventable causes.

"The fact that stock companies are withdrawing from farm risks is working a hardship on the agents, and making it extremely difficult for farmers in certain localities to obtain adequate insurance protection," he said. "Agents of stock companies who have built up a lucrative farm business find it difficult to renew and are threatened with a serious financial loss."

NEED INSURANCE
"Every effort should be made to remedy this unfortunate condition. The farmer must be provided with adequate insurance protection. Such protection to the farmer is extremely important because he does not have the benefit of the protection of fire fighting facilities that are available to the man living in the city. He must depend wholly on insurance against hazard of fire and tornado."

"Town mutual insurance companies are practically the farmers' only hope and reliance for insurance protection. These companies are rendering a distinct and valuable service to the farmers. They have furnished the farmers with this insurance at actual cost which is below the rates charged by stock companies. A very striking and remarkable characteristic about town mutual companies is their very favorable experience as compared with the unfavorable or high loss ratio of stock companies on farm risks."

ANOTHER LICENSE-LESS
DRIVER PARTS WITH $10

Because his automobile was not licensed, Otto Spletter, 1513 E. Johnson, who was arrested Wednesday on N. Superior st by Appleton police, paid a fine of $10 and costs of $5.20 Thursday morning in municipal court.

Spletter, who came to this city from Illinois about two months ago, told Judge Berg that he made application for a license in that state. His application, he stated, had been refused as the automobile had not been registered for several years, and there seemed some doubt about the clearness of the title. Spletter admitted, however, that he had not applied for a license in Wisconsin, declaring that he was uncertain that he would make his home here.

Under the Wisconsin law a person arrested for not having a license for his automobile is obliged to pay $2 extra costs as a fee to the officer making the arrest. In Appleton such fees are added to the police pension fund.

PREPARE REPORT ON TEACHER'S TRAINING

A report on the teachers' training in Wisconsin schools was started Thursday morning at a meeting of the committee on teacher's education of the State Superintendent's association at the office of B. J. Rohan, superintendent of schools, at Lincoln school. Mr. Rohan is chairman of the committee.

Other members are C. E. Hulten, superintendent of schools at Marinette, and Chester Newlin, superintendent of schools at Marshfield. The report will be submitted to the annual meeting of the association at Madison late in September.

BY DUNSIRN'S DELAY

Floyd Dunsirn, 1325 N. Meade-st, who was arrested here Wednesday morning at the request of the sheriff of Calumet-co for failure to appear in court at Chilton to answer a charge of reckless driving, appeared Wednesday before John P. Hume in justice court and pleaded guilty to the latter charge. Dunsirn explained to Justice Hume that he was unable to appear in court as ordered, and that he tried to communicate with the court to that effect, but was unable to do so. He paid a fine of $10 and costs of $14.25.

Mrs. Alex Robedeau and daughter Veronica, are spending two weeks visiting with relatives and friends in various places in Wisconsin.

Courthouse Workers Stiff
After Baseball Tussle

Courthouse and other county employees held a picnic Tuesday afternoon at the cottage of John E. Hantschel, county clerk, after the courthouse had closed at 5 o'clock. The feature of the picnic was a baseball game between married and unmarried employees. Each side claimed the victory, and the final score is in doubt. Following are members of the two teams: the married side had only eight players:

Married—Robert Amundson, county agent, pitcher; Mike Mack, county board chairman, catcher; Judge Theodore Berg, first base; A. G. Bruse, highway commissioner, second base; John E. Hantschel, county clerk, third base; Mrs. Angela Gressenz, shortstop; Sheriff Peter Schwartz, right field; and John A. Lonsdorf, district attorney, center field.

Single—Sydney Shannon, pitcher; Earl Schwartz, catcher; Miss Dehula Schmit, first base; Carl Becher, second base; Miss Dorothy Doyle, third base; Miss Mollie Pfeffer, shortstop; Stanley Stald, right field; Miss Lorena Bucholtz, center field; and Miss Myrtle Kranzsch, left field.

Canoe and rowboat rides also proved popular at the picnic.

VANITY CASE

© 1926 by G. P. PUTNAM SONS

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MRS. PRENTISS, who suffers from insomnia, sees lights mysteriously appear and disappear in the HEATH household, near the one night and the next morning Harbor Gardens, Long Island, is ago with the murder of MYRA HEATH and the disappearance of her husband, PERRY, an artist.

House guests of the Heaths are LAWRENCE INMAN and BUNNY MOORE. Inman might have a motive because he is heir to Myra's considerable fortune, she having made her will in his favor and cut her husband off. Suspicion also points toward Bunny, a vivacious, golden-haired beauty, because of her refusal to answer questions at the inquest and the fact she had apparently known of the murder before the maid, who went to her room to inform her.

Myra Heath was a peculiar woman, beautiful but cold. She did not love her husband; she never used cosmetics, never wore colors; she had a mania for collecting rare bits of glass, and it was a whisky bottle that was the instrument of her death—a bottle from her own collection.

Candles were burning at her head and feet when a maid discovered her body, and nearby was a card marked "The death of Perry Heath." Strangest of all, she was made up heavily with rouge and dressed in gay colors.

The strangest thing about Heath's disappearance is the fact that all the doors and windows had been locked on the inside the night before and were found that way in the morning.

Finger prints of Inman and Bunny Moore are found on the bottle, and the coroner declares his belief that the murder will be found in the household. A vanity case has strangely disappeared and doctors declare the rouge was applied to Myra's face after death.

At the Country Club the murder is discussed by SAM ANDERSON, AL CUNNINGHAM, who is trying to solve the mystery, and others, some believing Perry Heath the murderer, others disagreeing. Cunningham suspects Bunny Moore.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XV

"Well, You're philosophical, to say the least," Anderson told him. "But go ahead, old chap. Quiz the little girl—I'd like to see that charmer—and put the he-cousin through a course of sprouts. My choice is for him. He's the only one I can see who has motive, which, as I've been told, is the first thing to look for."

"I suppose Inman may be said to have had motive," Cunningham said, slowly, "but I know him, and though I'm not an intimate friend, I can't seem to see him brutally murdering his beautiful cousin, to inherit her property."

"Why not?" said Anderson. "I mean, granting the brutal murder, somebody must have done it. And presumably, somebody in the house, if the stories of the careful locking up are all true. I don't eliminate the possibility of Heath's guilt but I can't see how he could get away afterward. He could, of course, have gone away before the crime, if the cousin did it."

"Well, I'll go there this evening, if they'll let me in, if not, I'll insist on an interview tomorrow. I shall say I represent the Country Club, which feels it has a right to use every effort to locate one of its members who is mysteriously absent."

"Yes, that's a good way to put it," commended Black. "You must get something, Cunny. As you say, that doddering coroner got nowhere."

"It's outrageous, the way such cases are handled by incompetent and ignorant officials!" Anderson declared. "By the time a clever or experienced detective can get busy on them, the important clues have been obliterated. And not only that, but the bungling operatives are so cocksure and self-sufficient that they persuade the public of their own efficiency when they have none at all."

"That's right, Sam," Black agreed. "Well, get busy, Cunningham. Hunt down Heath, if you can. Get all the information you can from the people at the bungalow, and let's cover the Country Club with glory by solving the mystery of the murder of Myra Heath."

"Heath will come back of his own accord," Anderson said, insistently. "And you'll find clues or evidences pointing to Larry Inman as the perpetrator of the crime. Of course, this is pure surmise on my part, but all the evidence seems to lie in that direction."

"Maybe," Cunningham said, thoughtfully. "I'm not sure you're not right. But innocent or guilty, it ought not to be hard to find Heath. Men can't drop out of sight so easily. I've heard the department have already put detectives on his track, but I've heard of no response as yet. Though, of course, it's too soon to expect it. I don't know Heath actually well, after all. Do any of you fellows know anything—or unsatisfactory about him?"

"Shady, you mean?" asked Black. "Yes—or queer—peculiar. Eccentric. Anything, in fact, out of the ordinary. The sort of thing a chap wouldn't tell of an acquaintance, except in such circumstances as these we're now facing. If any one knows anything detrimental to Perry Heath, I hold it is his duty to tell it."

"I agree with that," Anderson spoke decidedly. "Personally, I know nothing. I'm not very well acquainted with him, but when I learned he was to be a rival candidate for the club presidency, I naturally looked up his record."

"Where'd you find it?" asked Cunningham, eagerly.

"Oh, I don't mean in official files. I just asked a few club members. I found out nothing definitely against him, and not much definitely for him. He seemed to be rather colorless, I thought."

"Yes, that's Perry," said Wally

Forbes. "Good enough, all round sort, but nothing startling about him. If he committed this murder, it's the first exciting incident of his life. I'm sure. He loved a good time, he's out-door, and he's a genial chap. I think it was his general placidity and good nature that made the Gardens people choose him for their candidate. Most of them are so temperamental they are unfitted for such a post as president of a club."

"He's welcome to the election, if he'll come back for it," Sam Anderson said, speaking with obvious sincerity. "I don't care a rap for it, dunno whatever made me consent to run."

"There are others," vouchsafed Black. "Garrison's a favorite."

"Hope he'll get it, then," Anderson said, but his tone was not quite so genuine now.

Cunningham departed with a cheery word as to his own success, and from the clubhouse, he wandered back, over the bridge to The Gardens.

As he went, he mused on the difference of atmosphere in the two sides of Gaybrook Harbor.

And it occurred to him, that, though on the Park side, the house-holders were rather formal and a bit stiff, on the Gardens side, there was far more camaraderie and what might be called neighborly sociability.

This led him to wonder if anything might be learned from the neighbors of the Heaths.

As he neared the bungalow, he noted as he passed, the house just before it, and he saw no signs of occupancy. Clearly, the house was at present untenanted. So nothing could be gained from that side.

But on the other side, the side to ward the sea, he saw a pleasant bungalow, and on its small but cheery verandah, a middle aged woman and a young man sat chatting.

WISCONSIN VETS STILL ASK BONUS

116,000 Service Men Already Have Received State Compensation

Madison—With about 116,000 Wisconsin ex-service men already having received the state bonus for service in the world war, applications are still coming in at the rate of 35 to 40 a month.

Nearly all took the cash bonus. Only about 300 availed themselves of the educational bonus. Unless the time is again extended at the next session of the legislature, all bonus payments will end on the first of next July. The educational bonus time also expires July 1.

Although the bonus payments have been available since the war, ex-service men still write to the bonus department of the adjutant general's office explaining that they have just learned that the state is paying a bonus.

According to John F. Mullen, in charge of the department, most of the claims for bonus coming in now are from individuals who have made an unsuccessful attempt to collect a bonus from other states.

CANDIDATE SAYS CAR OWNERS ARE PENALIZED

Plymouth —(P)—Homer G. Bell, candidate for the republican nomination for secretary of state, said in a speech here Wednesday that Wisconsin automobile owners "are being penalized unjustly every time they purchase a new car because they are required under the present license law to pay a second license fee of $7.50 to $19.50."

"I favor a system of licensing whereby the owner of a motor vehicle would keep his license plates when disposing of his machine and be allowed to transfer them to any other vehicle he might acquire for a fee of one dollar," Mr. Bell said.

"With men having a residence in one state and enlisting from another it is a problem in many cases to determine what state owes the soldier a bonus, with the result that the granting of the payments is delayed while the claims are shifted from one state to another."

Her Own Way

A STORY OF A GIRL OF TODAY

THE LOGIC OF THE TEMPTRESS
That afternoon I went to the master who was teaching Miss Lawrence. He was supposed to be the best voice teacher in America. I learned afterward that he charged two hundred dollars for just listening and telling you whether your voice amounted to anything or not and he was said to be very brutal in his conclusion. He paid not the slightest attention to your feelings in any way.

"From my increased salary I had saved one hundred and fifty dollars, and the next morning I went to Madame Sera who had always been more than kind to me and asked her if she would lend me the other fifty and take it out of my salary for the next month."

"She asked me what I wanted the money for."

"I told her."

"Sing for me," she commanded.

"Without any accompaniment or preparation, because I knew she was sympathetic and kind, I sang Tosca's Goodbye."

"When I finished, she wrote me a check for fifty dollars, and said: 'Wait a day or two and I will put you in a position to get that audition for nothing.'"

"This afternoon when Miss Lawrence comes in I want you instead of Lucile to model the dresses she is going to look at. While you are changing outside these curtains—I will arrange that you dress just outside the room—I want you to sing some part of this Goodbye song."

"Buddy Tremaine will be with Lola Lawrence. He is perfectly crazy about music and he won't disdain a girl that is easy to look at. I heard yesterday that Lola's voice had not come up to standard under the strain Tortoise has told her it would be no use to give her more lessons. Of course I'm not sure whether it is Lola's voice or whether Tremaine has gotten tired of her but I do know she is going to Europe next week for a rest, and Tremaine is not going with her."

"Although it is very probable that you will hear nothing more of your singing today I am sure that Tremaine will be around here to find out about you."

"I looked at Madame Sera somewhat in surprise. She seemed very hard I had not yet learned, Julia, that we women have to be hard as steel to make our way to the top in this world."

"Madame Sera, I don't want to hurt Miss Lawrence," I said haltingly. "I she has found out that something is wrong with her voice she must be broken-hearted and I don't want to add to her grief."

SKAT LEAGUE HEAD DIES IN BURLINGTON

Burlington—(AP)—Henry E. Zimmerman, 61, widely known throughout central Wisconsin, died at his home here from a heart attack. It was the third stroke Mr. Zimmerman had suffered in the last three years.

A native of Oconomowoc, Mr. Zimmerman learned the printer's trade there in 1888. In 1888 he bought the Standard-Democrat at Burlington, and in the same year was married to Hattie A. Warner, Juneau.

Mr. Zimmerman is survived by five children, Louis H., secretary-treasurer of the Wisconsin Press association, Mrs. Carl Kreichol and Warner A. Zimmerman all of Burlington, and Mrs. Merritt Giles, Kansas City, and Mrs. Benjamin Zabier, Spring Prairie.

Prominent in local politics, Mr. Zimmerman had served as village clerk here, supervisor for five years, chairman of the Racine county board, mayor of Burlington from

Piles Disappear

No Cutting or Salves Needed
External treatments seldom cure Piles

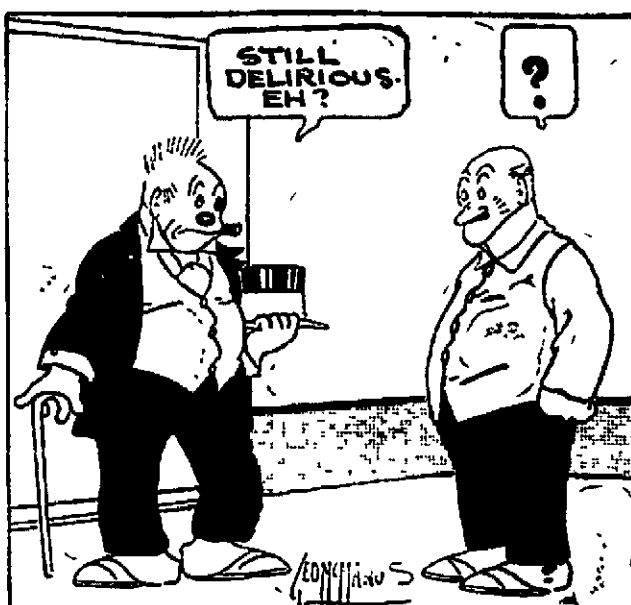

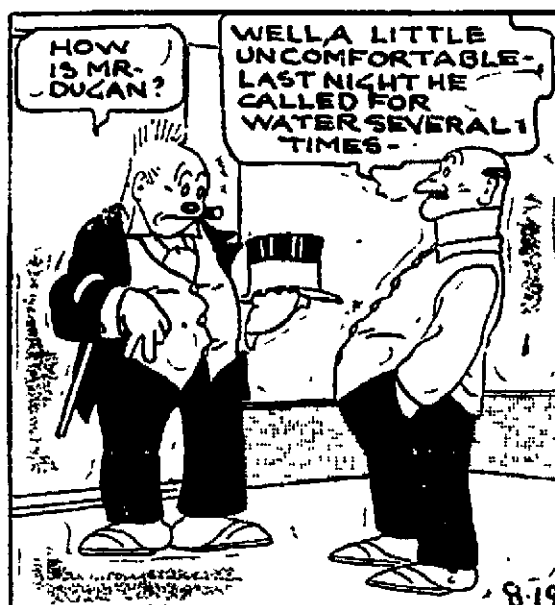

Nor do surgical operations
The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.

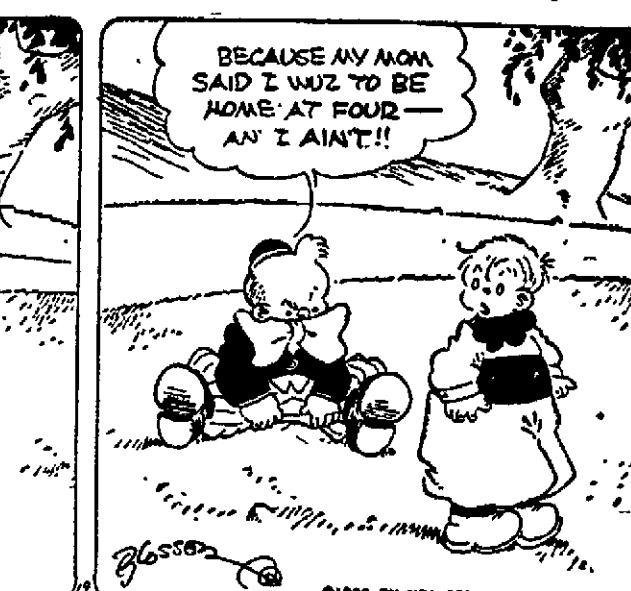

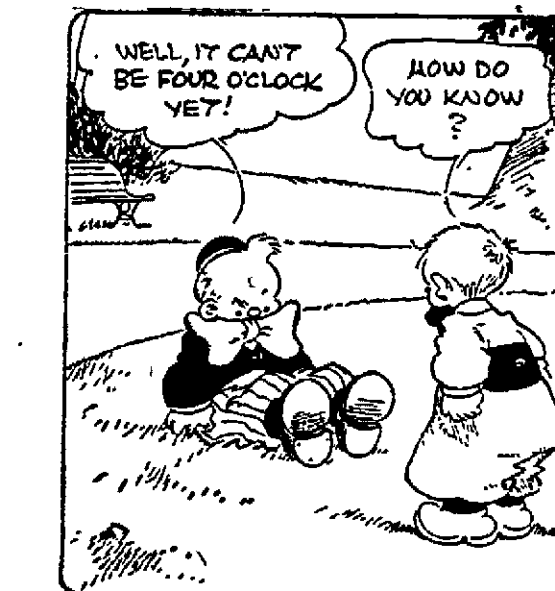

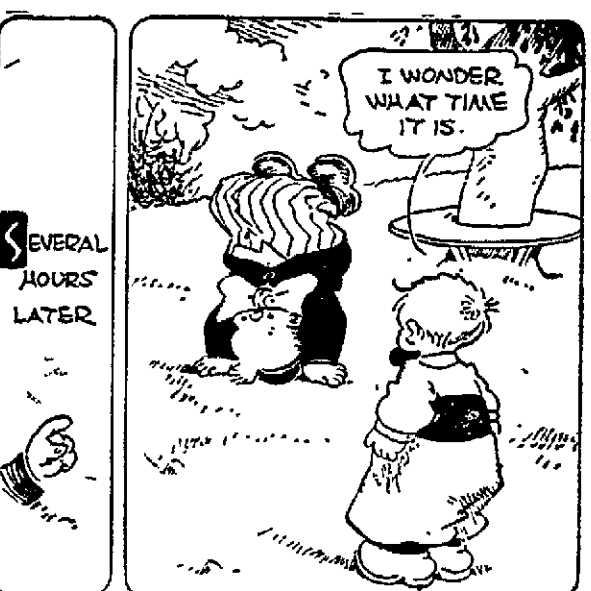

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless, but, easy to take, and can always be found at Schintz Bros. Co., who will kindly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.

Black And White To Be Rage Again

BY HENRI BENDEL

New York—The rising tide of color has reached its peak and the logical result is that it will soon be discarded and replaced by the excitement of black and white.

For evening, white and black is the correct formula—the body of the frock in white, and the black introduced as an accent.

For day, black and white is the correct order, and I prophesy that one of your desires in the way of a fall costume will materialize in a black satin or crepe, with collars and cuffs, or vest of bertha of white.

TREND IS REACTION

By this I do not mean color is passe—certainly not. But an orgy of color, such as we have witnessed for the past year, invariably ushers in a decided feeling for black and white.

White evening clothes have always been popular with New York women—more so, I believe, than with European women, or women in the other cities of our own country.

At any gathering of social importance in New York, white is usually the choice of the majority of the well dressed women. But there is a sameness about the all-white frock, which makes many women avoid it.

But when you add black, with just the right subtlety, you achieve an individuality as well as an elegance that no other combination can give.

Always remember that black and white call for very careful makeup, and perfect grooming. All imperfections are more visible against a white background than a colorful one, and likewise, all points of loveliness are heightened and accentuated.

Household Hints

SPOTS VANISH

You can remove machine grease or tar from cotton material by rubbing well with lard. Then wash with soap and moderately hot water.

WHISK BROOM

An ordinary large-sized whisk broom is valuable for brushing upholstery and cushions. It reaches the corners.

LIKE A SHORTCAKE

Blueberry toast is delicious—cut toast in narrow strips, and arrange in a criss-cross pattern on a plate. Cover with berries, and whipped cream.

SILK DUSTER

An old silk petticoat of jersey silk, when laundered, makes an excellent duster for highly polished furniture.

THEY'RE GOOD, TOO

When frying in deep fat, if the fat gets too hot before you are ready to use it, cool by throwing in a few slices of raw potato.

SANDWICH HINTS

Spread each slice before cutting it from the loaf. Butter left off the ice for an hour will be easier to spread.

SAVES A MARK

Vases of crockery are often so porous that they leave water rings on polished wood, even though the bottom is dry when set down. Use small doilies under them.

USE GROCERY BAGS

A garbage can can be kept immaculate by inserting an open paper bag to hold the garbage. Clean by simply lifting out bag with contents.

FOOD CHOPPER

All parts of the food chopper should be thoroughly scalded and dried after using, so it may become a source of infection.

PETS IT UP

A particularly pleasing sparkle may be added to mild punch by adding ginger ale. A few sprigs of mint are also a helpful addition.

RIPE ALL OVER

When buying peaches, select those that are uniformly colored, not red on one side and hard and green on the other.

THEY'LL KEEP

When buying pears it is wiser to buy those that are a bit green than those over-ripe, for they decay very rapidly.

SAVES DELAY

Prepare your vegetables early in the morning, and cover with cold water till they are needed, then cook in the usual manner.

Dwarfs are very numerous in certain parts of Hungary and are in great demand in mid-Europe for the stage.

NEW ADAPPTIONS OF TURBAN AND WIDE BRIMS NEW MODE FOR FALL HATS MILLINERY STYLES SUBMIT TO SUBTLE CHANGE; MORE SOPHISTICATED

BY HENRI BENDEL

New York—All summer millinery has been undergoing a subtle change, so that this fall for the first time in several seasons, there is really something new in hats.

The spell of the tight, close-fitting felt hat has been broken, and becomingness is again an element in head gear. We still have the untrimmed felt, with a much more interesting crown than before, but we have also velvet, silk and fabric hats.

This year's hats must be thoroughly sophisticated, and must be casual enough to suit our thoroughly modern taste, but it may also be feminine and beguiling.

Of the utmost importance is the return of velvet, particularly the colored velvets, and the new adaptations of the turban and the wide brimmed hat.

Photographed today are two velvet and two fabric models that I have selected as typical of the fall and early winter mode.

The small velvet model that is practically a turban is of wine colored velvet of a particularly deep and luscious hue. A very narrow brim rolls softly up from the face, and the crown is quilted in four sections, and a narrow bias band of the velvet ties in a knot at the right side.

While charming for fall, this naturally suggests itself as the ideal accompaniment for the fur coat with the wide collar.

A fan of Japanese aigrette at the left side gives considerable dash to the small velvet model, which is of the beige silk velvet, a shade or so lighter than the feather. The very soft crown may be draped to suit the features of the wearer.

The velvet with the medium-sized brim is one that is usually becoming to almost any type of face—and it is extremely youthful as well. Brick red is the color, and the rolled brim is trimmed with satin and gros grain ribbon of the same shade, twisted in triangular patterns. About the very softly folded Alpine crown is an applied design of the ribbon.

With the sport frock, or the new tweed or jersey fall frocks, there is no more suitable type of hat.

The black velvet draped model, though spoken of last, is really first in chic, I believe, and is the perfect combination of line and fabric. Black velvet is draped to form a visor brim, and cut glycerine ostrich, shiny and black, is applied over the crown in the most becoming manner.

Autumn's newest hats are deep and carefully fitted about the crown, and are worn well over the eyes. They are more effective than they have been in years.

FASHION HINTS

PLEATED MODEL

One of the most interesting advance winter models from Paris shows a black velvet model with a pleated skirt and a softly bloused bodice.

GOOD FOR SCHOOL

For the young girl assembling her college outfit is an attractive Eton jacket suit of red velvet with a cream colored silk blouse with softly frilled Eton collar.

SATIN IN STYLE

For between seasons the hat of black satin of a combination of black satin and black grosgrain ribbon is very good style.

TAFFETA TURBANS SMART

Taffeta makes very smart close turbans for fall, often they are trimmed with pleated bands.

BLOOD-RED NAILS

French women are insisting upon blood-red finger nails. But American women thus far have clung to the paler shades of pink.

TO USE CORDUROY

Corduroy is to be used extensively for suits and frocks this fall for the young girl.

STRESS NEW LINE

The supple closing, the most flattering line there is for the heavy figure, is being stressed in the French openings.

TAFFETA POPULAR

Plaid and checked taffeta, a very youthful material, continues to be exceedingly popular for two-piece jumper outfits.

MOLESKIN USED

One of the most popular fur trimmings for coats and frocks is moleskin, used lavishly and often shored on to give a very full, thick appearance.

Kills Pesky Bed-Bugs Quick

Instant death for bed-bugs, roaches or fleas. The moment P.D.Q. the new chemical discovery touches these insects they die. Can do no damage to your springs or furniture, won't rot or stain clothing. P.D.Q. is used and recommended by leading hotels, hospitals and railroads as the quickest and safest way of getting rid of pesky insects. Instantly it smothers and kills the living creatures, coats their eggs, and stops them from hatching and multiplying. A 5c package of this golden chemical will make a quart of mixture—so deadly it will kill a million bed-bugs. P.D.Q. can also be had in double-strength liquid form—ready for use. Free patent spot enables you to reach hard-to-get-at places with ease. Get P.D.Q. at your drugist's today. Your money back if the bugs are not gone tomorrow. Schlitz Bros. Co., Drug Store.

ACCESSORIES TO WEAR WITH FALL COSTUME

Fall costume accessories are already asserting themselves, mingling with summer styles and offering us new details. We include in accessories jewelry, millinery ornaments, gloves, handbags, shoes and hosiery.

Many of the fall style accessories are merely repetitions of previous seasons. However, without them we are lost as far as chic is concerned.

Pearls Predominate

Pearls still predominate in necklaces. The pea-sized pearl necklace that comes in 60-inch length, and drapes twice around the neck is among the favorites. Twisted ropes of pearls which extend below the waist line and twisted chokers are good. Real seed pearls of multi-strands with an occasional semi-precious bead such as lapis, jade, amethyst or carnelian are designed for those who go in for semi-precious jewels.

Bracelets of slave type continue to lead. Huge links of gold or silver interspersed with semi-precious stones are popular for day wear. Bracelets match necklaces and earrings. Complete sets including necklace, bracelet, ring and earrings are among the new notes. Crystal jewelry is popular for evening wear. Crystal likewise is a leading hat ornament.

Hosiery is Darker

Hosiery shades for fall are a bit darker than at present. Thus dusty tan, cocoa brown and gunmetal are among the newer shades, which match the fall shoes of patent leather, brown reptile and brown and black suede. Navy blue and wine color novelties. For evening, paisley brocades and metallic kids hold the leadership.

A pair of "blue" rats, the result of careful breeding from selected freaks of the old British black rat, are on exhibition at the London Zoo.

BOCK, SHEBOYGAN AMATEUR, WINS STATE OPEN

Bad Sand Trap On Wednesday Loses Title For Frank Walsh Local Pro, Who Finishes 2nd

Winner Is First Amateur to Cop Open; Walsh Receives First Prize Money

Finishing three strokes behind Adolph "Buster" Bock, Sheboygan amateur, Frank Walsh, pro of the Butte des Morts country club, took second place in the state open meet which was ended Wednesday at the Kenosha Country club. He topped every pro in the meet, including Jack Blakeslee, 1925 champ. He won first prize money, because Bock is an amateur.

Bock finished with a 304, scoring 157 on Tuesday and finishing with rounds of 76 and 71, the last round being one under par and the best 18 holes score of the entire meet. His win was a complete surprise. Walsh finished with a 307.

The local pro, one of the state's finest golfers, saw his chances vanish on the morning round Wednesday morning. The four strokes which would have put him ahead of Bock were used in a snafu trap on the seventeenth green, digging out a buried ball shot. He had been leading until this time.

Bock's win was the first for an amateur. Ned Allis, amateur state champ, finished second last year. Bock captained the University of Wisconsin golf team for two years and this year acted as coach. He was 1925 Northeastern Badger champ and runner-up to Ken Dickinson, 1925 state champ, this year, forcing Ken to a 19-hole final victory.

Jack Blakeslee, Kenosha professional, the defending champion, and a strong favorite to retain his title, had a tough time Wednesday afternoon on the final excursion and his inability to shove him down to a tie for third with Francis Gallett and Alex Wilcox. Blue Mound, Milwaukee professional. Their totals were 310. Wilcox, an 18-year-old youth, held the lead at noon on 223 but required 51 in the afternoon.

LACROSSE COACH TO BADGER SPORT STAFF

Madison—Robert Nohr, Jr., La Crosse Normal school baseball coach and gymnastic instructor, has become affiliated with the Wisconsin University athletic department, according to the announcement made by Director George Little. The appointment of Nohr is one of several made recently which have materially strengthened the Badger staff.

Nohr's duties will be along the line of general physical education under the direction of Coach Guy Lowman. He will serve as fencing coach and also handle the freshmen gymnastic candidates. Furthermore he will teach several courses to the four year physical education students, and supervise classes in required gym work.

The background of the newly appointed coach is the best. Prior to his eight years service at LaCrosse Normal he was coaching at Froebel school, Gary, Ind. For five years he was employed in the public schools at Richmond, Ind., and for two summers instructed at the American College, Chicago. Nohr's home is Cincinnati, Ohio. He is a graduate of the Normal College of Gymnastics, Indianapolis, Indiana.

ORIOLES ONLY 4TH AS BATTING SQUAD

Baltimore may be showing the way, as usual, in the International League chase, but as a batting combination ranks only fourth. Rochester is leading with a mark of .310 with Buffalo and Newark right behind. The Orioles have a percentage of .292.

GENE SARAZEN—PRACTICING FOR TOURNAMENTS

There are various opinions as to the proper way of conditioning oneself for a tournament. Some say you shouldn't play much golf, or more than is necessary. Others believe that the more one plays, the better prepared one is for the contest.

I believe that you cannot play too much golf; that it is a game which requires constant practice in order to retain the touch. However, there is such a thing as over-doing practice just preceding a tournament.

A champion fighter always watches his opponent in the ring if he can before he meets the challenger. Football coaches scout one another's teams all with the idea of getting an idea of the character of the opponent. A golfer's opponent in medal play is the course.

If it were possible, one should visit the course where the championship is to be played at least a month in advance and put in a lot of practice. But the week preceding the tournament one should take things easy.

FIRST AMATEUR TO WIN OPEN

"BUSTER" BOCK, LEFT, AND KEN DICKINSON

Adolph "Buster" Bock, Sheboygan, 1925 northeastern Wisconsin amateur champ and runner-up to Ken Dickinson, Appleton, for the 1926 title, won new laurels Wednesday at Kenosha Country club when he took the state open crown from Wisconsin's first pro and amateur. He is the first amateur to win the tournament. He beat Frank Walsh, Butte des Morts pro, who finished second. Bock finished the 72-hole medal test of two days with 304, scoring 157 Tuesday and finishing with rounds of 76 and 71. He shot the last round one under par. It was the best score of the entire meet. His win was a surprise. Above him is shown with Dickinson, just after he forced the local man to go 19 holes to win the northeastern title at Butte des Morts course.

Gene Tunney, Challenger Of Champ Dempsey, Didn't Want To Fight For Money

Sneer of Promoter Started Gene in Fight Game; Williams Tells Life Story

Here's the first of a series of articles on the life of Gene Tunney, 28-year-old challenger for the heavyweight pugilistic championship, so long held by Jack Dempsey. These intimate and exceptionally timely yarns have been compiled by Joe Williams, flint expert of NEA Service, Inc. Williams knows the ring racket and the boys in it. He's a personal friend of Tunney. No authority on boxing is in a better position to write this interesting series than Williams.

BY JOE WILLIAMS

Well to begin with, Gene Tunney isn't Gene Tunney at all. Twenty-eight years ago, down in Greenwich Village at 111 Bank street, James T. Tunney was born, a howling, squirming bundle of Irish humanity that now stands on the threshold of the world heavyweight championship.

James J. Tunney became Gene Tunney both to his family and the world at large through the inability of a younger brother to pronounce Jim. The best the younger Tunney could do with it was Gene when he wanted to say Jim and Gene when he tried for Jimmy.

The early chapters of Tunney's life read much like those of any other normal, healthy American boy who was born and raised in a metropolis where youth is fashioned early into the molds and moods of man.

The ring knows Tunney today as a "gentleman fighter." But in his more youthful days he was a street fighter of no meager ability. "I don't ever recall going out of my way to start one of those fights," says Tunney, "but just the same I seemed always to be in one."

In due time Tunney came to be known as the best 144-pounder in the village. Neighborhood fighters were in demand then at the smaller fight clubs in New York. Matchmakers at the Sharkey, Fairmount and Manhattan Casino always had a neighborhood "grudge fight" on their cards. Frequently these fights were the best of the night.

Tunney started professionally this way: Bill Jacobs used to scout for neighborhood material for the old Sharkey A. C. in precisely the same way baseball scouts roam the smaller leagues for potential diamond gems. Jacobs saw Tunney and offered him $10 to fight a four-rounder the following Saturday night.

"You can believe it or not," relates Tunney, "but I was more offended than surprised. The business of fighting for money had never entered my head, and somehow or other it all seemed very distasteful. I told Jacobs I'd never fight anybody except for the fun of it."

One of Tunney's buddies, by name Sam Green, heard of the incident. "Do you know why you don't want to fight for money?" asked Green the next time he saw Tunney. "Well, I'll tell you. You're afraid of getting that good looking pan of yours smashed in."

Tunney wasn't sure whether his friend was kidding him or not. He didn't appear to be. "All right, Sam," Tunney replied, "I fight for Jacobs, but it'll be my last public one. Whatever happens, win or lose, I'm through."

Tunney won the fight. He stopped his man. All of his gang from the village was there to see him do it. "I was so flustered when those boys started cheering as I came into the ring to fight an ordinary preliminary," recalls Tunney, "that I would have run from the place had it been possible."

Tunney changed his mind about fighting only one fight at the neighborhood clubs. He fought three others and won them all, looking better each time.

One of those four fights was staged at the old Fairmount A. C., which was then operated by Billy Gibson, Tunney's present manager.

It was held on a hot summer night. Tunney was meeting one of the Jaspers from Harlem in a six-rounder. Gibson usually sat at the ringside personally supervising his programs. But it was too hot for him this night, so he sat in the front office, about 100 feet away, cooling off before an electric fan.

"Say Gibson," shouted a voice from the arena, "come on out and watch this kid Tunney go. He looks pretty sweet."

"Watch him yourself," marked Gibson. "I wouldn't walk 100 feet to see the Corbett-Sullivan fight repeated."

Tunney tells that story himself. "And I don't blame Billy a whole lot. I can still remember that night. The place was like a bake oven."

All the while Tunney was still working as a stenographer and accountant in the downtown offices of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

"That job looked awfully good to me in those days," says Tunney, "and I didn't do much talking around the office about my fights for fear I would get the 'can.'"

This was in 1917. Presently the war reached a point where America decided to get in and Tunney enlisted in the marines.

Tunney, in his own way, is a thinker and a philosopher. When the transport on which he sailed glided out of the East river and into the Atlantic a sort of spiritual message came to him.

It said: "You'll die in France."

"That has always puzzled me," says Tunney. "I'm not morbid by nature, yet I was positive 'all the while I was in France that I had seen home, mother and my friends for the last time.'"

HORNSBYS CLING TO BUCS' TRAIL

Win Again as Pirates Split Even; Carey May Manage Dodgers Next Season

Brooklyn fans are debating the possibility of who will manage the Dodgers next year. Manager Wilbur Robinson of the Dodgers who is also president of the club tried a year ago to leave the bench for executive duties and he placed Wheat in charge of the team. A great slugger and fielder, Wheat failed to satisfy the team followers as manager. Carey released by Pittsburgh has been claimed by Brooklyn.

The Pirates went into action Wednesday for the first time since Carey, Bigbee and Adams were punished for their effort to oust Fred Clarke, assistant manager from the bench. An even break with Boston resulted. Pittsburgh won the first game 4 to 1 through Ray Kremer's excellent pitching and lost the second, 4-3.

The St. Louis Cardinals remained a half game behind in the standing by turning back Brooklyn, 6 to 2. Bob O'Farrell registered a homer, and Jim Bottomley hit safely in his three appearances, two of his blows being doubles. Billy Southworth produced a double and a single.

Jackie May gave Cincinnati a 3 to 0 victory over Philadelphia keeping nine hits scattered. The victory kept the Reds within striking distance of the leaders.

Boston took its fourth straight from St. Louis in the only American League games played 4-2. Ruffing permitting only five hits, Jacobson hit the ball out of the park in the first inning.

BREWERS WIN TWICE TO TAKE LOOP LEAD

Off on a new winning streak that Wednesday reached seven in a row the bustling Brewers fought their way back to the top of the American Association. They got that way by emptying both barrels on the unfortunate Senators, 13 to 3, and 5 to 1, while the Colonels were splitting even in a pair with the Saints. The margin is half a game.

On The Community Bulletin Board

Remember the bulletin boards of your school days? Books for sale, books wanted, rings lost, club meeting dates—all the happenings of school life were reflected in those hand-lettered notices.

Life has grown more complicated since then—a great variety of things are bought and sold by everyone; we have more wants to be satisfied; we have become more particular in satisfying them.

But the simplicity and efficiency of the bulletin board of our school days has not been lost.

We have our Community Bulletin Board—in the Post-Crescent's classified section!

There—in such good order that you can find what you want in a moment's looking—are many ads about the things that we need in our everyday life.

Don't miss a day's reading of these little bulletins of satisfaction.

TRIAL DISPLAY OF SIGNALS ON CORNER ORDERED

Council Will Award Contract at End of 15-day Demonstration

A 15-day demonstration of their traffic light signals was ordered of the Art-Killoren Electric Co. and the Langstadt Electric Co. bidders for the new signals which will be installed at the corner of College and Oneida-st. by the common council Wednesday night. One of these firms probably will be awarded the bid at the end of that period. Bids of these two firms and the Langstadt-Meyer Co. were submitted to the council.

The lights of both bidders conform to the recommendations of the Wisconsin Highway commission. Both signals have three colored lights, one for a stop sign, one for a caution sign and one for a go sign. The Art-Killoren Electric Co. prepared to erect its lights Thursday morning, and already has the poles at the corner ready to put in place.

The Hotel Appleton was granted a refund of income tax paid in 1923 in the sum of $84.40, or 70 per cent of the amount paid.

The C. F. Smith Livery and Transfer Co. was granted eight tax licenses and Kingsley and Mace were granted billiard table licenses.

Applications of the Continental Clothing Co. of Western Union Telegraph Co. and John and Ulrich to erect signs in front of their buildings were granted.

Plans and specifications for sewers on N. Appleton-st. from Parkway-blvd to the city limits; Erb-st. from Parkway-blvd to Brewster-st.; Alvin-st. from Parkway-blvd south 375 feet, and Parkway-blvd from Alvin-st. to Erb-st. were adopted.

A warning that the city must proceed cautiously in its expenditures from now to the end of the year was made by Mayor Albert C. Rube.

He pointed out that there is approximately $218,510 remaining with which to run the city for the remainder of the year. According to the clerk's last report, there is $118,510 left in the general fund, and taxes from utilities will amount to no more than $100,000, he said.

"We must keep our expenses down to a minimum during the next four and one-half months," he said. "We don't want to borrow any money and we don't want to raise the tax rate, but if the city continues to spend as it has the first part of the year, we will suddenly find ourselves penniless. I urge the council to be careful, give all petitions for sewers and water deliberate consideration and grant only those which are absolutely necessary."

Two Matrimonial Barks Crash On Divorce Rocks

Two ventures on matrimonial seas—one as it had reached mid-channel, and the other on unseen shoals not far from the shore of embarkment—ended as wrecks Wednesday afternoon in municipal court.

The voyage was not smooth for Joe and Anna Libal, both of Appleton, but they weathered the rough places for more than a quarter century. They were married May 15, 1900, in Brown-co when Mrs. Libal was a girl of 19, and her husband three years her senior. Three children were born to them in those early years, but each of them is now a full-fledged citizen of the United States. Mrs. Libal won her suit for a divorce decree, which was uncontested by her husband, because she Lucille and Walter Reinke, 20 and 21, respectively, started their journey together from Menominee, Mich., Nov. 26, 1924, and abandoned hope of a peaceful voyage on June 13, 1925, when they separated. She charged her husband, whose present address is unknown as he is said to have left Appleton, with cruel and inhuman treatment, and her suit was not contested. Judge Theodore Berg granted her a decree Wednesday afternoon, and awarded her the custody of her child.

Reports made to President Coolidge of nation wide prosperity, as demonstrated by the barometer of mail order sales, were favorably received in the stock market and were instrumental in the active buying for both accounts. Both chain store and mail order issues took an active part in the early upturn of prices. Special considerations prompted renewed bidding for Mack Trucks, Pierce Arrow, Preferred, General Asphalt and Tobacco Products, all of which stood at the highest prices of the current rise with prospects for a revision of class rates in the west combined with the steady expansion of the crop movement, stimulated buying of the grain carriers, such as Chicago and Northwestern and Pere Marquette. United States Steel and other recent leaders continued to lose ground. Foreign exchange was steady, with French and Belgian francs holding well above 2 1/2 cents. Sterling was unchanged. The buying movement was so broad and confident in the forenoon that weakness in several of the influential shares virtually passed unnoticed as a market influence. United States Steel went down 2 1/2 to 15 1/2; the lowest since it began its recent setback. General Motors lost a similar amount and Mack Truck relinquished all of its early advance. Oils were up slightly and the Southern and Southwestern railways were accumulated on a large scale, Missouri Pacific touching 4 1/2 and Chesapeake and Ohio 15 1/2, both new top for the year. The renewal rate on call loans was retained at 4 1/2 per cent.

The closing was irregular. Total sales approximated 1,800,000 shares.

DEATHS

HINCHLIFF FUNERAL

Federal services for Warren H. Hinchliff, who died at his home, 514 E. Washington-st., Monday morning, were held at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon from the home. The Rev. H. E. Peabody of First Congregational church was in charge.

Bearers were Edward Schmidt, Lawrence Lutz, David Roudsbush, Wilbur Saxton, Fred Steenils, and Elmer Steenils. Those who attended the funeral from other cities were Mrs. Frank Cummings, Mrs. Charles Haag, and Mrs. T. V. Conway, Chicago; Miss Cora Lansing, Wausau; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Slickinger and Miss Cathryn Lansing, Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. Roy Colburn, North Fond du Lac; John Hager, Mr. and Mrs. William Hager and son, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Maspa and daughter, Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. William Harwood.

Mr. Hinchliff was a member of the Appleton lodges of Eagles and Modern Woodmen.

GODFRED MOLLET

Godfred Mollet, 70, died of heart failure at 8:30 Wednesday evening at his home in the town of Ellington. The survivors are his widow and six children, Louis and Helen at home, William of Appleton, Arnold of Kimberly, Loretta of Appleton and Alice of Neenah. Three sisters also survive. The funeral will be held at 1:30 Saturday afternoon from the home and at 2 o'clock at the Ellington Lutheran church. The Rev. E. Redlin will conduct the services. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

JOHN THERN

John William Thern, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Thern of New London died Wednesday evening at St. Mary hospital at Oshkosh. The body was taken to New London Thursday. Funeral services will be announced later.

MRS. FRED BROCKMANN

Mrs. Fred Brockmann, 50, died at her home in the town of Harrison at 7 o'clock Thursday morning, following a long illness. She was born in the town of Potter. She was married to Fred Brockmann, in 1906 and moved to Harrison the same year.

Mrs. Brockmann is survived by her widower, and two brothers, William and Henry Ostermann, both of Potter.

Funeral services will be held at 1:15 Saturday afternoon from the Brockmann home, and at 2 o'clock at Zion Lutheran church of Appleton, with the Rev. Theodore Marth in charge. Interment will be made in Riverside cemetery.

MRS. JUSTINA CISKA

Mrs. Justina Ciska, 86, died at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clara Becker of Sherwood. Mrs. Ciska was the mother of 17 children, seven of whom are living. They are Frank of Ringling, John, Lawrence and Albert of Menasha, Mrs. Frank Wanderer of Ludington, Mich., Mrs. J. Flanagan of Milwaukee and Clara Becker of Sherwood. She also is survived by 35 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 9:30 Saturday morning at Sacred Heart church at Sherwood with the Rev. A. Jaekle in charge. Interment will be in Sacred Heart cemetery.

COUNCIL DEFEATS LANGSTADT DEAL

Assessments of benefits and damages for sewers on the following streets, as made by the board of public works, were adopted, with exception Kernan-ave, Rankin-st., N. Morrison-st., Cedar and Outagamie-sts., Appleton-st., Harrison-st., Summit-st., N. Outagamie-st. E. Wisconsin-ave and S. Montrose-st. The council recognized the objection of William Johnson on assessments on E. Wisconsin-ave, and lowered them from $2.05 to $1.50 per front foot. The condition existing here is peculiar in that the residents living on the south side of the street are in the city limits, while the property on the north side belongs to the county. Consequently the property owners were to be required to pay the entire assessment of benefits and damages, instead of only half, as was the case in the past. The property on the north side of the street belongs to the city limits. As the sewer is to be laid extraordinarily deep, the assessments were lowered.

STOCKS STAGE QUICK RECOVERY

Buying of Rail, Motor and Oil Shares Impart Firm Note to Market

New York—(AP)—Buying of representative railroad motor and oil shares imparted a firm tone to stock trading at the opening of Thursday's market. Pierce Arrow issues, Mack Trucks and Hudson Motors continued to lead the recovery in this group while Chesapeake and Ohio and Norfolk and Western were in the forefront of the advance among investment rails.

Reports made to President Coolidge of nation wide prosperity, as demonstrated by the barometer of mail order sales, were favorably received in the stock market and were instrumental in the active buying for both accounts. Both chain store and mail order issues took an active part in the early upturn of prices. ## HUGE RALLY IS PLANNED WHEN BLAINE COMES

Progressives Make Preparations for Visit of Governor.

One of the largest La Follette Progressive Republican rallies of the present campaign in Appleton is expected to be held Friday evening in Lawrence Memorial chapel when Gov. John J. Blaine gives an address. Mrs. Blaine will occupy the platform with Gov. Blaine and it is possible that Congressman George J. Schneider of Appleton also will give a short address.

Gov. Blaine is opposing Senator Irvin L. Lenroot as a candidate for election as United States senator. Congressman Schneider is a candidate for reelection from the ninth district.

One of the main features of Gov. Blaine's address is expected to be on his attack on the world court. He will attempt to prove "that America does not need a world court to perpetuate and protect the booty it got out of the world war because it got nothing." He will attempt to show that the world court is a foreign entanglement which may bring about war. He probably will devote the most of his address to his attack on the world court.

The visit of Gov. Blaine in Appleton is being sponsored by the Farmer-Labor league. Fred Bachman, president, will preside at the meeting and introduce the speakers.

On Tuesday Gov. Blaine addressed three gatherings in Milwaukee and on Wednesday he spoke in Fond du Lac and at several smaller towns and villages in that vicinity. On Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock the governor will deliver an address at New London. At 4 o'clock he will speak at Brillion and will then come to Appleton to give the address here at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Mrs. Blaine will deliver an address at New London at 1:30 Friday afternoon and will speak at Waupaca at 4 o'clock. She will return to Appleton, following the talk at Waupaca and join Gov. Blaine here.

On Saturday afternoon the governor will deliver an address from the veranda of the Congress hotel at Kaukauna. He is to be introduced by Mayor W. C. Sullivan.

The Eagle File and Drum corps will escort Gov. Blaine from the Conway hotel to the chapel. Mr. Blaine is a high official of the Eagle organization.

DAMMANN THINKS HE CAN SAVE $289,000

Milwaukee (AP)—Pledging himself to a "rigid program of economy," Theodore Dammann, candidate for the Republican nomination for secretary of state, declared in a speech Thursday that in his judgment a saving of approximately $289,000 could have been effected in the secretary of state's office "by efficiency and economy."

"The expenses of the licensing of automobiles in 1923 amounted to about $161,000," he said. "In 1926 it had jumped to $550,000, up to June 30. This is an increase of $389,000 in two years. No doubt the increase of the number of automobiles was responsible for some of the mounting cost, but not sufficient to make it jump $389,000. From my business experience and knowledge I would say that the added expense should not have amounted to over $100,000."

NOTICE TO MERCHANTS
The following resolution was passed at the regular meeting of the Board of Education held on August 13, 1926: RESOLVED, That after September 1, 1926 no bills will be honored by this Board of Education, unless each item on the invoice bears the order number or the name of the person purchasing the goods.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That all merchants be instructed to accept no orders, unless signed by Miss Morgan or Mr. Rohan, except in emergency cases, where the principal of the school or some member of the board of education may issue such order; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be given to the principal of each building, who shall inform the teachers and janitors of each building of this ruling; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be published twice in the daily paper in order that any merchants who might be overlooked may have a chance to read the same.

BUILD $30,000 MAUSOLEUM FOR BALDWIN FAMILY

A granite mausoleum, costing approximately $30,000, is being constructed by the Charles G. Blake company at Chicago for the Baldwin family. The mausoleum is to be constructed of granite taken from the quarries at Barre, Ver., and is to be completed by Nov. 1. It will be installed on the family lot in St. Mary Catholic cemetery. The outside measurements are 16 feet across the front, and 13 feet deep and 13 feet 7 inches high. The mausoleum is to be of a classical design with a door in front and a small window in the rear. Inside there will be eight crypts or burial vaults.

EKERN RAPS KLAN IN CAMPAIGN ADDRESS

Milwaukee (AP)—Attorney General Herman L. Ekern expressed opposition to the Ku Klux Klan in a speech here Wednesday night.

"In this campaign," he said, "I am advised of the activity of today's revival of these organizations of intolerance and that its members are lining up solidly behind certain candidates. I desire no misunderstanding as to my position.

"If the present Ku Klux Klan had their way the Declaration of Independence would now be changed to read: 'All men are created equal except immigrants, Catholics, Jews, and Negroes.'

Quoting from utterances of Abraham Lincoln and the late Senator La Follette, Mr. Ekern said:

"Upon my record and upon these statements of Lincoln and La Follette I take my stand and in the language of Thomas Jefferson, I affirm: 'I never will, by word or act, bow to the shrine of intolerance or admit a right of inquiry into the religious opinions of others.'
